

DR. LEONARD HILL, of London, advises men to take example of women, and reform their clothing. Women, to be sure, have gone the limit. They have taken off nearly everything. They may have shocked the prudish, but they have added to their own health and comfort.

Women have more courage than men, and when they undertake a reform they do it thoroughly. Also, they were in much greater need of reform. Their clothes were so much worse than men's that only a radical revolution would make them endurable at all. Men, because his fashions were only moderately bad, has been too lazy to make them good.

When women were building themselves into architectural constructions, unsanitary, uncomfortable, and impossible to get around in, man's clothing was nothing worse than ugly, unventilated and awkward. It is still all of these, and is no better than it was fifty years ago.

In these days, when we realize that the body needs sunshine and air, these heavy, hermetically sealed ugly garments are without excuse. When woman donned the only pinafores, man should have adopted adult rompers, and been comfortable. As to looks—he could not have made himself more ridiculous than he is now.

WHEN the budget bureau asked the navy department how it could save $200,000 a year, the reply was, in effect, "By abolishing useless stations that we don't want, but some congressmen do."

The same thing has always been true of the army, though it is not quite so bad as it once was. Stations established in the Indian-fighting times, and which the army has been wanting to get rid of for a generation have been continued because the expenditure of government money in them was welcome to some congressman's constituents.

It is log-rolling versus economy.

WHAT is the remedy? The secretaries of war and of the navy have been saying these things for years, without effect, behind the closed doors of committee meetings. Let them have the chance to say them openly, on the floor of congress, in the hearing of all of us, and we will bring to a direct vote, without evasion, whether congress will insist on forcing appropriations on them which they have not asked, and which they have told congress are useless.

If the performance can be made public enough, the people can be trusted to do the rest. So long as it remains hidden in committee, both the people and the executive departments are helpless.

13 INJURED WHEN CARS JUMP TRACK

URBANA, O., Aug. 22.—Thirteen persons were injured, none seriously, when a day coach and four Pullmans of Pennsylvania passenger train No. 9 jumped the track at Paris, near here, today.

A broken rail caused the wreck and only high embankments paralleling the track averted a disastrous crash, railway officials said.

The injured included Harry "Hank" Gowdy, former New York Giants catcher, scratched and bruised. Gowdy was en route to the Pacific coast on a scouting trip for the Giants. He returned to Columbus.

MAC SMITH GOLF TOURNEY WINNER

YOUNGSTOWN COUNTRY CLUB, Youngstown, Ohio, Aug. 22.—Macdonald Smith, professional at the Lakewood country club, Great Neck, Long Island N. Y., today won the western open golf championship taking 281 strokes for the 72 holes. He tied the western open low score record made by Jock Hutchison, Chicago, at Memphis, in 1923.

Leo Diegel and Johnny Farrell, New York professionals, were tied for second honors with 287. Walter, third, New York pro, was still out on the links with a chance for a tie for second.

Boy Injured In Attack by Bull

HANFORD, Calif., Aug. 22.—Angelo Joaquin, aged 9, received a broken rib and bruises when a bull attacked and gored him today when he was riding. When the horse fell the boy was underneath, which probably saved his life. The boy will speedily recover, the attending doctor declared.

Escaped Oregon Convict Is Captured

BETRAYED BY VAGRANT IN WASHINGTON

FIGHT AMONG SELVES

Desperados Split Up and One Is Seized and Probably Will Be Executed

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 22.—Smiling and calm, although shackled to Charles D. Pilling, Centralia policeman, Tom Murray sat in the Portland police station for a brief time today, awaiting guards from Salem to take him back to the state penitentiary.

"I guess it's the rope for me," he said.

Then his attitude changed. "I don't care so much about dying on the gallows, but I'm afraid it would take my mother with me," he said sadly.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 22.—The double-cross has again cost Tom Murray his liberty and probably his life.

The escaped Oregon "kidnaping convict" and murderer was betrayed in Centralia, Wn., early today by Philip Carson, a vagrant, who picked up with Murray in the railroad yards at Vancouver, Wn.

Once before, Murray was captured by authorities because someone "squealed." He trusted a woman, his sweetheart, to hide him, but she turned on him when she became jealous. Today Murray is in the toils because he again relied on someone else instead of himself.

Asks Carson to Help
Murray trusted Carson and asked him to aid in his escape. Carson said he would. He plotted with Murray to stake a holdup, at the same time scheming Murray's capture.

As a result, Murray was chained today and will be returned to the penitentiary at Salem, where he will probably be hanged for his part in the death of two prison guards at Salem last week, killed during the escape.

Meanwhile, through information given by Carson, authorities were pursuing new hot tips as to the whereabouts of Murray's two pals—James Willos and Ellis—worth Kelly.

Pair Hiding in Woods
According to the story told to Carson by Murray, he told those two men hiding in the woods near White Salmon, Wn.

Willos and Murray had a fight there yesterday afternoon, Murray told Carson, and they agreed to separate. Willos and Kelly planned to stay in White Salmon for a time, and Murray was to go east. After he left his companions, Murray told Carson he changed his mind and went to Vancouver. It was there that he and Carson met.

The pair took a freight to Centralia, where they planned a hold-up. It was while Carson was apparently perfecting his plans for this, that he left the rooming house where they were staying and called upon Charles Pilling, member of the night police force.

Officers Disguise as Bandits
Mayor George Barner was called and the two officers masqueraded as outlaws who were going to take part in the stickup. Carson said he knew them.

As Carson started to introduce Pilling and Barner, they stuck their guns in the back of Murray's ribs. "Pretty clever," Murray said.

Murray was the ringleader of the escape from the Salem penitentiary on the night of August 12, when J. M. Holman and John Sweeney, penitentiary guards, and Bert "Oregon" Jones were killed in the break.

2 CONVICTS SEEN IN TOURING CAR
THE DALLES, Ore., Aug. 22.—Convicts Willos and Kelly were seen by Sheriff Warner, of Klickitat county, headed toward Maryhill, Wn., in a touring car early today, according to word received by local police. Poses from Golden-dale are reported headed toward Maryhill while Wasco county authorities are preparing to join in the hunt.

DOROTHY ELLINGSON'S FATE PLACED IN HANDS OF JURY

Alternate Members Think Girl Was Insane When She Slew Mother

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The fate of Dorothy Ellingson, accused as slayer of her mother, was placed in the hands of a jury here today at 10:00 a. m.

Seven women and five men are considering her case.

Two alternate jurors, Calvin H. Haynes and Chester C. White, who were discharged after the regular panel was locked up, asserted the testimony had convinced them that Dorothy Ellingson was insane when she killed her mother.

The defense having been "not guilty by reason of insanity," Superior Judge Harold Louderback dealt fully with the subject of mind disorders in his instructions to the jury, starting at 9:35 o'clock.

On insanity question "No person can be punished for a crime committed while insane," he said. "If this defendant is found to be insane, she should be tried for insanity."

Deadlocked, the jury was taken to lunch at noon, and the court ordered a recess until 2:30 p. m. No prospect of a verdict was in sight, it was reported.

The last words of the prosecution, closing its case late yesterday were:

"This is not the open season for mothers! Dorothy Ellingson killed her best friend!"

Dorothy was not impressed. "It's stuffy in here," she said. "I'm about roasted."

That Dorothy would not go free even if the jury found her "not guilty," was indicated by the presence in the courtroom of juvenile court officers, prepared to take the 17-year-old girl into custody.

Mother Found Dead
Mrs. Anna Ellingson was found by her son, Earl, murdered with a bullet through her brain, on January 13, this year. The daughter was arrested two days later, hiding in a rooming house under a false name. After many delays, she was brought to trial, and created a score of spectacles in court by fainting, and on one occasion throwing a water glass at her own attorneys.

A frequent of night life cafes in Chinatown, although only 16 years of age at the time, Dorothy was known as the "jazz girl."

Alleged Torture Treatment Probed
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 22.—Seven additional warrants probably will be issued today in connection with the alleged torture treatment given by county officers to George Lenhardt, who is held for the murder of his wife, whose body was found in a wooded ravine near his home in the county.

When Lenhardt was taken before a judge for arraignment, he was found to be suffering from abrasions and bruises. He said he had been "strung up" in his cell, so that only his toes touched the floor, and that he was taken out in a motor car and beaten, to make him confess.

Lenhardt maintains his innocence.

Stock Holds Lead In Senate Recount
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The standing today, at the conclusion of the recount of 63 counties in the contest between Senator Smith W. Brookhart and Daniel P. Steiwer for the Iowa senatorship, was as follows:

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 22.—The terms of the national defense act cannot be carried out if appropriations to the army are appreciably reduced by congress this winter, Senator James W. Wadsworth Jr., New York, Republican, said today, after visiting President Coolidge at the summer White House.

The efficiency of the army cannot be maintained if congress carries out the recommendations of the budget bureau for a decrease of many millions of dollars in appropriations for maintenance of the military establishment, he said.

The New York senator said his visit with Mr. Coolidge was mostly social, and that the proposed army economy was not discussed. Prospects of tax reduction, increasingly favorable business conditions and proposed reorganization and simplification of government departments were the principal subjects taken up.

MAGEE KILLS WRONG MAN WITH BULLET

SCRAP IN HOTEL ROOM

OLD POLITICAL ENEMY ATTACKS NEWSPAPER MAN, COMPANION MEETS DEATH
EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., Aug. 22.—Carl C. Magee was placed under formal arrest shortly before noon today on a warrant charging him with murder in connection with the shooting to death of John B. Lassiter here last night. Magee's bond was set at $10,000 and was signed by a group of citizens here. The preliminary hearing was set for next Wednesday.

Doctors who examined Magee said today that he was suffering from three broken ribs, lacerations on the scalp and severe body bruises.

Magee was attacked by Leahy in a hotel here last night. He was struck and knocked to the floor, according to witnesses. While he was on the floor and the former judge was kicking him, he drew a gun and fired, killing Lassiter, who was with Leahy, and hitting Leahy in the arm.

Daughter Sees Killing
Magee's daughter, who was a witness to the affair and was said to be in a serious condition from the shock last night, is reported better today.

The feud between Magee and Judge Leahy dates back nearly four years to the time when the editor was waging a newspaper campaign against what he termed political corruption in San Miguel county. The first clash came when the editor and the judge, when the latter was in the county, were in a newspaper that he would not be permitted a fair trial and accused Leahy of bias and prejudice as a member of the Romero "political ring," then tried however and convicted of libel by a jury of Mexicans, all of whom were incapable of reading the English language—in which the alleged libel was written—and many of them members of the Penitentes, a secret religious organization, which Magee had alleged was part of the Romero "ring."

Magee Cited for Contempt
In the course of his trial, Magee was cited for contempt of court four times for articles printed in his paper commenting on the proceedings.

When the contempt trials were heard, Magee branded Leahy as "a corrupt political judge, whose court was not a court, and whose trials were travesties of justice." Magee was fined $4,000 and sentenced to a year in jail. Governor Hinkle pardoned the editor and remitted the fines.

Magee last night was attacked by the former judge and knocked to the floor twice, according to witnesses.

The shooting took place in the Meadows hotel. According to an eye-witness account, Magee was sitting on a lounge in conversation with W. S. Patterson, of Albuquerque, when Lassiter and Judge Leahy entered.

Magee Is Warned
Patterson, seeing the newcomers, turned to the editor and said: "There's your old pal, Leahy; you'd better watch out."

Magee smiled and appeared to take the warning as a joke.

Leahy and Lassiter passed by Magee and the former turned and without the editor's having a chance to defend himself, struck Magee a heavy blow with his fist on the side of the head. A second blow knocked Magee to the floor.

As the editor arose, Leahy attacked Magee, witnesses said, kicking and cursing him.

Lassiter stepped forward to pull Leahy away just as Magee pulled his gun and fired.

Mrs. Patterson, who had watched the affray, ran forward and caught Lassiter as he fell. He died just as a physician arrived a few minutes later.

Judge Leahy, it is understood, was wounded in the arm. As he

NAVY HYDROPLANE ENROUTE TO BAY CITY FORCED DOWN

Flight of Craft from San Diego Delayed Until Sunday Morning

NORTHHEAD, Wn., Aug. 22.—The seafaring boat PB-1, which left Seattle early today, was forced to descend in Neah bay, Wn., at 11 a. m., today. Communication established with the flying boat early this afternoon and the plane was forced to alight because of "trouble," the nature of which was not ascertained.

(By United Press)
SEATTLE, Aug. 22.—The U. S. navy hydroplane "PB-1" left here for San Francisco at 9:15 this morning, despite a heavy sky and threat of rain.

The great naval seaplane, built by the Boeing company here, will take part in the San Francisco-Hawaiian flight.

TWO SAN DIEGO PLANES DELAYED
SAN DIEGO, Aug. 22.—Delayed 24 hours for further examinations and adjustments, the two PN-9 seaplanes of the San Francisco-Hawaiian flight will leave San Diego at 6 a. m., tomorrow for San Francisco. The original plans were to leave shortly after day-break today.

No changes of an important nature are being made in the plans, according to Capt. Stanford E. Moses, commander of the flight project. He merely wished, he said, to keep the planes near the workshops of San Diego as long as possible, to avoid the necessity of having to ship equipment to San Francisco.

The flight from San Diego to San Francisco is estimated to take about seven hours, ending at the northern city about 1 p. m.

The two PN-9s will be accompanied by two PN-7s from San Diego on the northern trip. The smaller planes, however, will be required to stop at San Luis Obispo about 1:45 a. m. Sunday for refueling.

To refuel the take-off for Hawaii Friday, a squadron of seaplanes will depart from the naval air station for San Francisco. This squadron will include two of the SDW seaplanes.

L. A. Capitalist Dies of Apoplexy
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—W. E. Dunn, prominent Southern California capitalist, and vice president of the Los Angeles Railway company, died here today of apoplexy.

Dunn was taken to the Chase sanatorium recently for a minor illness, but suffered a stroke from which he never recovered.

At one time he was assistant district attorney of the county, after which he served as city attorney.

Mrs. Nellie E. Dunn, his widow, survives him.

PIRATES BEAT GIANTS; LEAD NOW 4 GAMES
(By United Press)
POLO GROUNDS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Pittsburgh increased its lead to four games in the National league pennant race by defeating the New York Giants 8 to 1 in the first game of a double header here this afternoon. Fifty thousand spectators saw the game.

The Pirates cinched the game with a rally in the ninth inning. They blasted Barnes out of the box and scored five runs. Frisch's homer in the third inning was the only effective blow the Giants registered off Meadows.

Vict Aldridge was picked to pitch the second game for the Pirates and Jock Scott was sent in for the Giants.

ONE ROBBER IS TAKEN BY L. A. POLICE
Third Member of Trio Escapes Following Pacific-Southwest Bank Holdup
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—A sensational running gun battle was staged on a busy downtown street in Los Angeles today between three bank robbers and pursuing police.

Two policemen were wounded, a bandit was slain, another captured and the third escaped. A near panic was created on the busy thoroughfare as pedestrians and motorists ran to cover to escape the shower of lead.

The bandits had just emerged from the Pacific Southwest branch bank, in the heart of the business section, where they held up employees and customers. With approximately $1500 loot, they sped through downtown streets, with police and civilians in pursuit.

Fire As They Speed Away
A veritable hail of bullets whizzed along the streets. Two of the bandits kept up a running fire, with a revolver in each hand. The driver guided his machine with one hand, and kept up a fire with the other.

The fleeing robbers opened fire on Traffic Officer W. E. Smith, on duty at a busy corner, without warning, shooting him in the side and arm.

Officer B. M. Stevenson, on duty at the next street intersection, emptied his revolver as the bandits passed him.

Caught in a traffic jam, after they had fired scores of shots, the fugitives leaped from their automobile and prepared to "shoot it out."

Bandit Drops Dead
Officers closed in on them from the rear and fired a volley. One of the bandits fell dead in the street. Another surrendered, and the third weaved his way through the crowd and escaped.

The captured bandit gave his name as John Smith. He said the name of the man killed was Schultz.

J. Zaralla and W. J. Baldwin were grazed by bullets. Both were in automobiles and met the bandits in their wild dash down the street. The automobiles of Zaralla and Baldwin were riddled with lead.

Other bystanders are believed to have been wounded.

CONFESIONS OF DENTIST WILL BE AIRED IN COURT
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—The alleged confessions of Dr. Thomas W. Young, accused dental gas murderer, are scheduled to be aired in court when the trial is resumed next Tuesday.

The defense plans to oppose their introduction, on grounds they were obtained while the dentist was under the influence of intoxicants. In the asserted confessions, Dr. Young is alleged to have admitted in detail that he asphyxiated his wealthy wife, Grace Grogan Young, and encased her body in a concrete cistern in the basement of his Beverly Glen cabin.

Mrs. Dorothy Leopold Mahan, the defendant's former office assistant, is a witness for the state, is to be recalled to the stand Tuesday. Her evidence is expected to have an important bearing on the question of admissibility of Dr. Young's confessions. She was present at the district attorney's office when the purported admissions were made by the eccentric dentist.

CONFER TO SETTLE PINE FLAT PROJECT
FRESNO, Aug. 22.—Representatives of a million acres of land on the Kings river are meeting in conference here in an attempt to settle the water rights and remove last obstacles to consummation of the Pine Flat project, which contemplates a $15,500 dam above Piedra and which has been a dream of irrigators for 10 years.

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

A dancing contest was staged at Balboa the other night. The prize was a handsome silver loving cup, "the best dancer," with accent on the "best."

It was not like the cup that was given to the Orange County Peace Officers' association, however, because the winners of this cup actually got it—to take immediately to a pawn shop, if they so desired.

But anyway, what we started to say was, that we are of the opinion that at these dancing contests, the best dancers are not always those who win the cup. It all depends on how many friends one has at the dance hall at the time the contest is pulled off.

The judging is done by applause received by each of the contestants, and if John has more friends at the contest than Henry has, then John gets the cup, whether he can dance or not. Very simple, eh? Just another case of steam-rolling.

What difference does it make if John can't do the "Charleston," or the "Chicken Scratch," if he's good-looking and a "whang" among the girls?

One little girl, watching the contest the other night, was heard to remark: "Well, John can't dance much, but he's terribly cute, and besides Henry is so stuck-up. Let's clap for John." And there you are.

Politics has reached the dance floor, that's all there is to that. If a contestant with an unusually large family took the family to the contests, he would possibly win a cup every night, somewhere.

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS MOST
"Better cigars for luncheon clubs."

And now Rudy Valentino and his wife have parted! Alas, another true romance of the silver sheet, torn and ripped. It's just another case of two artistic temperaments "seeking that freedom that each finds necessary for life's work," the newspapers said.

It seems to always be that way in Hollywood. Two artistic temperaments agree to disagree and separate, "for art's sake," and then in a little while, these same "artistic temperaments" meet other "artistic temperaments," and the thing is started all over again.

Headline in Newport paper: "Mackerel Running and Market Gutted."—Whatcha mean "gutted"?

Among the members present at the "40 and 8" meeting at Orange the other night was Walter Meyer, state motor cop, but before leaving his home for Orange, Meyer was careful to leave his gun at home. He lost one at one of those meetings once.

Among the songs of the past that can still be heard in Santa Ana is "Ocean Roll." It's played almost daily at a local motion picture theater. The song was coined many years before the war, but goes on just the same.

Although an investigation has been made, we believe "Darling Nellie Gray" and "Just Before the Battle, Mother" have been discarded at this particular house.

"Dear Colonel: I notice every day that you say 'Save the band.' I have been saving the bands from Havana for some little time, but do not know what to do with them. When you say 'Save the band,' do you mean that a prize is being offered for them? Or are you trying to get us fellows to start a collection?" E. A.

Suit yourself, but please write in who it is that gives you all the cigars.

"We note that the Community Chest committee is making arrangements for its annual drive. It's the proper time of the year to get out the chest protector." (From court-house wit.)

Here's another from the same person: "It is understood that the chest will be enlarged this year. We presume that the exercising that the Y. M. C. A. has put forth this year has developed many hidden treasures." (Yes, or collector.)

left the hotel, he remarked to companions: "I think my arm is broken; I'd better get out of here."

"My heart is broken, but my conscience is clear," Magee said after the shooting.

"I am too distracted over the unfortunate circumstances of Lassiter getting in the way at that moment to feel like attempting any statement. A half dozen reputable and responsible people saw the entire accident and I am willing to allow the outcome of public opinion and abide by their statement of the occurrence."

ESCAPED OREGON CONVICT TAKEN

Indications that James Willos and Ellsworth Kelly, escaped Oregon convicts, still at large, are in this vicinity were furnished early today. Theft of an automobile and robbery of the A. G. Lewis store, near here, have been traced to the convicts, believed heading today toward Maryhill. The men took $20 in cash, shoes and a quantity of provisions and tobacco.

MURRAY MUST HANG, DECLARES GOVERNOR.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 22.—"Tom Murray must hang," said Gov. Walter Pierce today, when informed by the United Press that the "kidnaping convict's" sensational career had been terminated by receipt of a death sentence. "I know Murray personally," the governor said. "He is an exceptionally mild-mannered man and by instinct the gentleman. I am astonished that he took part in the Salem murders."

Hundreds Ask for Dead Letter Cash

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Hundreds of letters are being received by Postmaster General New, requesting a slice of the post office's dead letter money, following an announcement that a small fortune is found annually in dead letter mail at Washington.

To prevent further waste of postage, New wishes to announce that under the law the money must be kept a year and then be turned over to the U. S. treasury.

Because New is from Indiana, it seems that many from that state believed they should have first claim on the money. A 14-year-old girl from Muncie wrote that she was a member of a large family, with a widowed mother, and would appreciate "just any portion" allowed her. A Kokomo woman wanted to borrow $5000 to live on until her husband made good on his patented device.

Auto Debt First; Family Aid Next

SAN JOSE, Aug. 22.—Rather than allow his time payments on his automobile to lapse, William Bardell of this city, refused to provide for the care of his two minor children, according to an admission made by him to Judge E. B. Brown in the superior court. Bardell was taken from an east-bound train at Truckee several weeks ago and arrested at the request of Sheriff George Lyle on the failure to support charge. After censuring the defendant for choosing to support his car in preference to his children, Judge Brown ordered Bardell to give half of his weekly earnings to the support of the family.

Police News

Joe M. Malazar, 2011 Michigan avenue, Los Angeles, reported to police last night that his automobile was stolen from Capistrano, late yesterday. A description of the machine was given to all officers.

Frank Bonner, 42, a native of Kentucky, was arrested last night by Officer Murray on a vagrancy charge. He was said to have been asleep in a box car at the time of his arrest.

Fines in police court yesterday, were as follows: Ronald L. Snavely, Los Angeles, speeding, $10; Walter Cherry, Santa Ana, parking in restricted district, $2; M. Guago, Santa Ana, drunk, $25; V. F. La Ronde, Santa Ana, running over fire hose, $2.

VIRGINIA VALENTINE JONES

Still in the custody of her mother, whom her parents accuse of spiriting her away from Laguna Beach, Virginia Valentine Hubbel Jones, was today in Ensenada, safe from the processes of American law, which declare she shall be delivered into the hands of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilton Jones, of New Orleans. The mother of the child, Mrs. Walsley Lenhard, of Laguna Beach, wife of a well known artist, refuses to give up the child, despite the fact that Virginia Valentine was legally adopted by her own grandparents.

JAIL SENTENCE METED OUT TO SPEEDY DRIVER

One man was given a five-day jail sentence on a speeding charge, another was fined $50, and eight others received smaller fines in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday.

Charged with speeding 50 miles an hour on the Irvine boulevard, H. C. Conway, 420 Isabella street, Los Angeles, was found guilty and sentenced to jail. Conway was arrested by Officer Mecham.

Because it was his second offense, R. A. Boardwell, Los Angeles, was fined $50 for speeding 45 miles an hour on Orange county roads. Others fined were: E. Earl, Los Angeles, 45 miles per hour, $25; Melvin Marshall, Santa Ana, "cutting in," $10; Jack McDonald, Los Angeles, speeding 45 miles an hour, $25; Edward Hurd, Huntington Beach, $20; C. A. Carlson, Orange, overloading truck, $25; James E. Kennedy, Long Beach, speeding 45 miles an hour, $15; C. M. Brown, Orange, overloading truck, $15; Theodore Kaber, speeding 43 miles per hour, $20.

WIFE CRIES WHEN MAN IS SENTENCED

Choked sobs of his wife and wails of his child rang in the ears of W. M. Dyer, as he stood before Superior Judge R. H. Williams yesterday and received a sentence of from one to 14 years in San Quentin.

Dyer passed a fictitious check for $10 to C. C. Wilkinson, of Fullerton, a few weeks ago. He pleaded guilty in court and asked for probation, but failed to get it. Sympathy for a heartbroken wife and wailing babe could not help him in the face of his past record. Numerous other check offenses had been committed by Dyer, the authorities said. When he was arrested at Fullerton, it was found that he had been granted probation in Ventura in connection with another check case, and had broken it.

Dyer's wife and baby were with him when he came into court yesterday to hear his fate. He held the child on his lap until it came time for him to stand up and receive sentence. Mrs. Dyer was then unable to restrain her grief and the little one, realizing that something was wrong, cried bitterly as the father was led away.

Former S. A. Man Is Admitted To Bar In Nevada

Word received today from Robert Gill, former Santa Ana man, now residing in Ely, Nev., announces that he has been admitted to the practice of law in Nevada. In a letter to his friend, Eugene Hoff, superior court reporter here, Gill states that he was admitted to the bar July 6.

The Ely man has many friends among the older residents of Santa Ana. After leaving here some years ago, he was in Mexico during the revolution, being employed by the Southern Pacific company. Later he went to Nevada and took up the study of law.

Health Officers of Coast to Gather

Matters of utmost importance, including discussion relative to diagnosis and control of poliomyelitis, better known as infantile paralysis, will come before the regular conference of Pacific health officers and the annual convention of California health officers, to be held at Long Beach, September 28 to October 3, according to Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer. Because of increased prevalence of infantile paralysis, much time will be devoted to discussion of its control, it is asserted.

MAN WANTED HERE NABBED IN KEY WEST

F. W. Keller, alleged bail jumper, who is wanted in Santa Ana on a felony embezzlement charge, is under arrest in Key West, Fla., according to word received today by Sheriff Sam Jernigan.

Local authorities immediately started proceedings for the extradition of Keller to California. A requisition to the governor for extradition papers is being prepared by the district attorney's office. Sheriff Jernigan will make the trip to Florida to bring Keller here, he said.

Keller, who is accused of embezzlement in connection with the promotion of a stock selling transaction here, was held to answer on the charge some weeks ago. He posted $1500 bail for his appearance in superior court, but failed to appear. The bail bond recently was declared forfeited and a bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Keller.

Sheriff Jernigan issued circulars containing a description of Keller and one of these led to his arrest in the Florida city.

TWO BOYS NABBED ON THEFT CHARGE

Charged with entering a Santa Ana home and stealing $70 in cash, two Santa Ana youths, 15 and 17 years of age, were arrested yesterday afternoon on a fishing boat in Newport Harbor, by Earl Lentz, city detective.

The home of R. E. Brown, 523 East Walnut street, was entered through the unlocked front door on August 20, and the money taken, according to a report filed with the police yesterday. The arrest of the boys followed within a few hours.

According to Lentz, one of the boys had more than $50 on his person at the time of his arrest. Both youths are being held in the county detention home.

You And Friends Please Phone or Mail Items

Mrs. J. H. Leebrecht of the county social service department has gone to Berkeley and other northern California points for her vacation. She will be gone for two weeks.

W. A. Taylor, 710 South Ross street, arrived home yesterday after a month's absence in the east. He was in Nebraska during the greater part of the time.

Prof. and Mrs. G. V. Linsendard and small daughter Jean, returned to their home at 415 West First street from a delightful trip through Yosemite valley and Tiolumme Meadows. On their return trip several days were spent in trout fishing at Silver Lake, Juniper Lake and surrounding country. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Eggert of Los Angeles accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Price of 815 Lacy street have just returned from a delightful six weeks' motor trip through the redwoods and mountains of the north. They visited their son in Portland, Ore., and traveled as far as Canada.

Mrs. M. J. Newberry, 402 East Pine street, returned Thursday from Newport Beach, after a pleasant outing of three weeks.

Mrs. Clara L. Wells of 512 Spruce street, her daughters, Mrs. Edith Osborn of this city and Mrs. Grace Greathouse of Van Nuys, and their little girls, Verna and Evelyn Jean, have just returned from an enjoyable 10 days at Laguna Beach, where they occupied the Home James cottage.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Mayes and their daughter, Miss Roma, have returned from a six weeks' hunting and fishing trip to June Lake, Mono county. Their daughter, Miss Helen, who has been teaching at La Vita, Colorado, is a visitor at the Mayes home, 1314 Orange avenue.

Fred Timm of 1318 Orange avenue will spend the week-end visiting relatives in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McVay of 300 West First street were passengers today on the Santa Fe for Pittsburg, Pa. En route they will stop at the Grand Canyon, and will visit relatives in Murietta, Ohio. They expect to return in the fall.

Mrs. A. L. Dearing and Mrs. K. E. Livezey, 1410 Bush street, had as luncheon guests Thursday Mrs. Hattie E. Walker of Los Angeles, the Misses Kathleen and Rachel Steward of this city and Lawrence D. Gunn of Great Bend, Kansas. Mr. Dunn, who is a grandson of Mrs. Dearing, is en route to Sitka, Alaska, where he has a position in the boys' school of that place, under direction of the missionary board of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vandermast and Mrs. and Mrs. E. T. Mateer have gone for a motor trip of two or three weeks. They will go as far north as Seattle and perhaps to Vancouver, B. C.

Fred Forgy of the firm of Scarborough, Forgy & Reinhaus, and Major M. B. Wellington, local attorney, are at Reno, Nevada, attending the district convention of the Kiwanis club. They expect to return Monday.

Miss Gladys Bush of the Orange County Audubon club and Miss Nellie Irving left today for a week's vacation at Catalina Island.

DELEGATES TO ROUND TABLE MEET ELECTED

Convention matters, including election of delegates and special committees to the national convention, to be held next month in Long Beach; committee reports on the "Save the Band" benefit dance, and sundry matters were taken up at the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table, held yesterday at St. Ann's Inn.

Accepting the recommendations of a nominating committee, Clyde C. Downing and D. E. Liggett were elected delegates to the local table to the Long Beach convention, September 18, 19 and 20, and W. I. Stewart and Dr. William A. Flood were named as alternates.

Name Program Group
Harold E. Nelson was appointed chairman of a special committee, charged with preparing suitable programs for Santa Ana's part in the convention doings.

A feature of yesterday's program was the appearance of Reginald Taylor, who entertained the knights with several baritone selections. He was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

Following the custom established by other service clubs in the city, a savings account was collected for Arthur Louis Hatfield, a new-born knight, whose happy arrival was announced by President Clyde C. Downing, who made the first contribution to the account. The new knight is a son of A. O. Hatfield, 1202 North Parton street.

Brisk Ticket Sale
Fred M. Medbery, chairman of the general committee on arrangements for the "Save the Band" benefit dance, reported a brisk sale of tickets, which, he said, was due to the splendid co-operation given by the other service clubs and civic organizations, and to the publicity given by the Santa Ana Register, Newport News and other publications. He also commended C. W. Christianson and son for their generous offer in donating the entire space of their parking ground on Bay avenue for the benefit of the cause.

The American women's record for the discus throw (38 feet 2 inches) is held by Nell Carroll, of the Florida State college for women.

Sensational Price Reductions and New Models in the "Vertical-8-Superfine"

$200!—$400!—$600!

NOW COMES within your reach, in price—as it has long been in your dreams of possessing—a Rickenbacker "Vertical-8-Superfine."

IT HAS LONG been our ambition to do this—but until now impossible.

TWO FACTORS render it feasible. First, design has been standardized, and second, we are now in volume production. CAR HAS BEEN thoroughly proven in every day, every-where service.

MOTOR HAS BEEN enlarged so as to afford a still greater surplus of power and speed.

DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION—every detail—has been proved and confirmed; so that now, we are certain this chassis will remain standard for the next ten years, at least.

IN MANY VITAL FEATURES this "Vertical-8-Superfine" is years—yes, years—in advance of the times.

IN THE REFINING PROCESS we were able to make several parts interchangeable with the Six, thus effecting many economies and rendering both types easier to service.

HAVING REACHED THAT POINT, we are now in production in volume, on this model as well as the Six.

THESE GREAT PRICE REDUCTIONS are just in line with the Rickenbacker policy to give the buyer full benefit of any saving we can effect in production, without reducing quality.

THE NEW SERIES ("8-B") is refined to the last degree.

MOTOR IS LARGER; cylinder bore now 3 1/4 in.—same as in the Six.

AS PREVIOUSLY STATED, many important parts, such as pistons, valves, connecting rods, gears, etc., of the two models are now interchangeable.

THAT'S A TREMENDOUS ADVANTAGE to dealers in servicing, and to users in lower cost of upkeep—also enables us to manufacture to better advantage.

SAME RULE APPLIES to many chassis parts—all of which is to your advantage.

IT IS THIS COMBINATION of factors which makes the lower prices possible on this new series "Vertical-8."

PRICES OF NEW MODELS are as follows:

	Old Price	Reduction	New Price
Phaeton	$2195	$200	$1995
Brougham	$2395	$400	$1995
3-Pass. Coupe, New Body Design			$2095
Sedan	$2795	$600	$2195

HERE IS THE WORLD'S GREATEST buy in a motor car of the finest type.

REMEMBER, THIS CHASSIS is identical in every respect, with that in which Captain Rickenbacker paced the 500-mile race on Indianapolis Speedway, Decoration Day, at 87 miles per hour.

AMAZING ACCELERATION—matchless hill-ability—and equally rapid, equally smooth de-celeration, thanks to the splendid 4-wheel brakes.

AND YET—this Rickenbacker "Vertical-8-Superfine" is priced $2,000 to $3,000 less than the only other "8" that compares with it in quality or performance.

DRIVE THIS "Vertical-8-Superfine" yourself—experience the "new thrill" in motoring.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
Some people are like the ground-squirrels which, after feeding on succulent vegetables and grain before they are ripe and ready for use, sleep through the months of drought. They are asleep at the faith and sincere endeavor, but awake away from facing the hard facts of life when difficulties threaten.

The WELL DRESSED MAN

By BEAUNASH
Corrects Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

CONCERNING COMFORT CLOTHES
Napoleon remarked cynically that America is a fortunate country, because she grows by the follies of European nations. True, verbally a race that thinks like lightning, we are yet unaccountably slow to grasp the importance of creature comfort in clothes as it is understood by other races. Fabrics such as linen, mohair, duck, linen crash, silk-and-linen, poplin, pongee and the like are only assumed by the odd man, instead of by most men. Ours is still a wool-wearing country. It took many years to impress us even with the merit of tropical-type worsteds for midmost summer. The backwardness upon the part of many Americans to adopt a really comfortable mode of dress is traceable to the misbelief that thin-texture fabrics without admixture of wool do not hold their style lines. This was unquestionably so years ago. It is not true today, for the most skilled tailors work goes into such light-weight, porous-weave clothes.

In the first place, it doesn't cost as much. You should give clothes a own enough clothes for daily changes. You should realize that summer clothes, exposed to scorching rest. You should realize that summer clothes, exposed to scorching sun and the effects of perspiration, bear a far heavier burden of wear than winter clothes. Treat them kindly and they will reciprocate in kind.

A few years ago, men tired of the pleated-back sporting jacket, because it was overdone, or it may be, because it was raw and underdone. Fashion swung to the plain-back sack, ventless and loose of drape. This, however, was the wrong thing should have been an unmistakable difference between one's town jacket and one's golf jacket. Moreover, the pleated garment is not as free-and-easy as the pleated style, because it hinders comfortable body-play.
Hence, field and country jackets of the type portrayed in the accompanying sketch are again the sportsman's favorite. The half belt in the back with a series of small pleats, or with one lengthwise expanding pleat, or with a modified yoke, or with set-in seems is typical of the way such a garment is cut. The so-termed four-piece suit, composed of coat, waistcoat, trousers and knickers, is a model which commends itself to many men on account of its convenience.
This is a popular idea rather than a fashionable one.

SANTA ANA MAN IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT

Edwin H. Jones, 1216 North Van Ness avenue, graduate of the 1922 class of the Santa Ana high school and until recently a student in the University of Southern California, was in the railroad wreck which occurred Thursday afternoon near Buena Vista, Colo., on the Denver and Rio Grande Western line.

A telegram, advising that he was not injured, was received yesterday afternoon by his moth-
here August 17 for St. Cloud, Minn., where he will go in business with his uncle, who is the manager of the Jones' Monument-al works.

He was routed via Denver, and was riding on the D. & R. G. train No. 8, when the head-on collision between the two trains took place. Jones is a brother of Farrel R. Jones, of this city, who graduated this year from the Santa Ana high school.

Apostle to Speak In Orange County

Dr. John A. Widsow, one of the 12 apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, will be in Santa Ana and Huntington Beach early this fall, according to information received by Elder Harsley, of this missionary district.

Dr. Widsow will speak twice here, once in the afternoon and once in the evening. In the morning he will talk in Huntington Beach. The local meetings will be held in the Santa Ana church's new edifice at 811 West Myrtle street.

The apostle formerly was president of the University of Utah and president of the Utah Agricultural college.

Giving Los Angeles The Once Over

SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION—Scientific investigations which may have as their result the radical revision of the theory of penetrating radiation will be conducted for ten days on the summit of Mt.
Whitney, in the High Sierras, by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, chairman of the executive council of the California Institute of Technology and director of the Norman Bridge Laboratory. Dr. Millikan will leave Pasadena with a group of scientists to continue experiments begun there three years ago. His principal assistant will be G. Harvey Cameron, a graduate of the institute who has been specializing in the subject. The object of the expedition is to determine whether the gamma rays, which are harder than the X-rays, are of cosmic or terrestrial origin. Mt. Whitney and Lake Muir near by, are said to possess such qualities that they are admirably suited to aid in the process of determining whether the rays come from within or without the earth.

TO WAR ON SHEIKS—Declaring that women and children are being subjected to gross insults by "sheiks" and other men of low character, three luncheon clubs—the Lions, the Rotary and the Exchange—passed resolutions asking the city council and the police commission to empower the chief of police to deputize sufficient women police to patrol the downtown streets and school zones. Basing the resolution on police records, which show that women and children are being accosted, the clubs asked that action be taken at once. It was decided that 200 or more women will be necessary to adequately patrol the streets.
Heretofore, it is asserted, women and children have been at the mercy of auto "sheiks." With sufficient women police on the duty, dittions will soon be such that the insults will stop, the clubs maintain.

Copies of the resolution will be placed in the hands of the city council and the police commission at once.

HITS DEATH PENALTY—Although his annual reports reveals that 12,729 persons sought free legal aid during the past year, Public Defender William T. Ageler yesterday stated that crime and criminals, in proportion to population, are decreasing. Ageler stated that capital punishment does not deter a murderer, on the ground that a man contemplating murder does not sit down and figure out the punishment. During the past five years the public defender acted as attorney for persons charged with criminal offenses in 1386 cases. In the civil department 16,148 persons asked assistance, 3,419 of whom were refused.
The remainder were helped.

TRANS-CONTINENT AIR LINE
—Commercial air service between Los Angeles and New York within two years was the prediction yesterday of James F. J. Archibald, famous war correspondent. "I feel certain that Los Angeles will be connected with the East via Tuc-son and Kansas City," he explained.
"Los Angeles would be wise to begin establishing local air routes, beacon lights and especially municipal landing places and flying fields. Passengers can be carried from Los Angeles to New York at a cost comparable to present railroad fares and at an average speed of eighty-five miles per hour.
Air travel is safer than automobile transportation."

Helen Wills Wins Way to Net Finals

FOREST HILLS, L. I., Aug. 22.—
Helen Wills, defending title holder, battled her way into the final round of the national women's tennis championship here today by defeating Eleanor Goss, New York, 3-6, 6-0, 6-2. After the first set, during which the young Californian played listlessly, the match was a walkaway.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's Hero—Homer Summa, Cleveland outfielder, played a fine day, hitting, scoring, and driving from second, with the run that beat the Yanks, 2 to 1.

Three passes in succession by Mar-berry in the eleventh inning forced a run and gave the Tigers a 1 to 0 victory over the Senators. Marberry was sent in to relieve Covelack after Wingo had tripped.

Three bad errors behind the loose pitching of Rommel caused the Athletics to lose their fifth straight game, the White Sox winning, 8 to 2.

The Browns hit Fuhr freely in the pinches and beat the Red Sox, 9 to 7.

LOVE WEATHERS TEMPEST INTO MARRIAGE PORT

The true love of Antonio
Avila, 41, and Adelaida Zuniga, 44, finally weathered the rough spots of a recent quarrel and sailed onto smooth waters of matrimony today. At least they were smooth today.

Adelaida's attempt to split Antonio's throat, when he sought to marry the "other" woman, evidently turned the trick. She was out of jail and had won Antonio from her rival. Which was just what Antonio wanted in the first place.

The couple had lived together at Los Alamitos for two years, but when Antonio suggested marriage, Adelaida promptly propelled him headlong from the house. This was followed by frequent warlike invasions of his bachelor's abode, until the harried Antonio sought refuge in wedlock with another—Los Alamitos belle. The ceremony was set for Thursday night. But it didn't take place.

Adelaida invited herself to the wedding, invited Antonio to one side, and then invited him to have a drink from her flask.
When he refused, she started to kick the neck of the bottle in his neck and when he demurred she suddenly whipped forth a knife and slashed his shirt sleeve, nicking his arm slightly.

This masterful display carried the day for Adelaida. Although Antonio had her placed in jail for safe keeping, he called off the matrimonial program for that evening and substituted his own Adelaida for the leading lady.
The wedding took place today.

Six Are Injured In Railway Crash

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 22.—Six persons were known to have been injured and several badly shaken up when a Bamberger electric passenger train crashed into the rear end of a freight train near Bountiful early this morning. The cause of the collision has not been determined.

Plans are in the making for a Dominion-wide organization to govern amateur baseball throughout Canada.

VOLCK

—kills citrus insect pests in all stages of development

The remarkable results achieved by the use of VOLCK are largely the result of the fact that VOLCK not only kills scale and most other citrus insect pests but kills them in all stages of development from the egg to the adult.

Most insect pests pass thru various stages in which they are practically immune to other control methods and spray materials—but there are no stages where they are immune to VOLCK. Every scale that is touched by VOLCK dies.

Because of its exceptional effectiveness one application usually ends the pest problem for the year. Once over your trees and you can give your time to other things.

VOLCK is not only sure, but it's safe. It does not burn or injure either fruit or foliage. No pitting, no scarring, no wind damage. When your trees are sprayed with VOLCK you get clean fancy fruit and the top price.

CHRYSLER FOUR

Acclaimed Everywhere As Typical of Chrysler Quality

Conservative opinion hails the new Chrysler Four as the most modern and the soundest contribution to finer four-cylinder engineering.

Unquestionably, there has never been a four at anywhere near the price that delivers the Chrysler combination of speed, smoothness, acceleration, pick-up, roadability, riding comfort and ease of handling, fuel mileage and charm of appearance.

In every respect, it is a fitting companion of the famous Chrysler Six. It is made of alloy steels as fine; it represents the application of the same fine precision manufacture that raised the Chrysler Six to its unprecedented peak of popularity.

The Chrysler Four is, in fact, to four-cylinder practice what the Chrysler Six is to six-cylinder practice. In its field, it puts an entirely new interpretation on ability and performance, on riding ease, and complete and perfect roadability.

See it—ride in it—drive it! Call on us at once. We are eager to give you the opportunity to learn at first hand the many advantages of owning a new Chrysler Four.

"ROMOLA" CLOSES RUN AT WALKER'S TONIGHT.

The occasion for George Jean Nathan proclaiming Lillian Gish as being the finest actress that the motion pictures have known, is not far to seek.

One of the players who appeared with Miss Gish in "Romola," during the filming of the George Eliot Florentine romance, had the following to say of Miss Gish's methods: "Lillian Gish is a delineator of character. Instead of making use of her own personality, she expresses other people and their angles on life. Lillian Gish, then, is a great actress in the sense of casting off her own personality and putting on another like a coat. She is always shooting at a mark."

"She studies the character she is to portray as a surgeon studies an ailment. She even figures out in her own mind what such a girl would eat; what she would do on her holidays; what kind of friends she would have. She may never use these points on the screen; but it helps her enormously to get 'clean under' when it comes to the portrayal of her role."

"Romola" is showing at Walker's theater for the last times tonight.

"THE HEART OF A SIREN" NOW AT YOST.

Another musical comedy favorite has forsaken the footlights for the screen. He is Clifton Webb who, until recently, was one of Broadway's most popular comedians.

Webb has an important role in "The Heart of a Siren," in which Barbara La Marr and Conway Tearle are co-starring. This picture opens at the Yost tomorrow.

Prior to his entry into motion pictures, Webb appeared in support of Ina Claire in "Polly With a Past," Francine LaRimore in "Parasites" and in other stage plays, both on Broadway and in London and Paris.

His initial picture experience

was with Richard Barthelmess in "New Toys."

"The Heart of a Siren" is an adaptation from the stage success, "Hail and Farewell," in which Florence Reed starred. It was produced by Sawyer-Lubin under direction of Phil Rosen.

"WHITE MAN" COMING TO WEST END NEXT.

And another elephant bit the dust!

It used to be injuns in all out of door pictures that did the biting. Now the "wide open spaces" have supplanted by the impenetrable jungles and the redskins have faded into insignificance compared with the pachyderms.

Ask B. P. Schulberg—he knows and can tell you that the greatest thrill in motion pictures nowadays (the villain who is shot in the nick of time to the contrary) is an elephant hunt!

For B. P. went sleepless for six weary nights—and got the greatest "kick" doing it—while Director Gansler filmed the single sequence of the elephant hunt in "White Man," a photoplay of life and love in the African jungles which is coming to the West End theater.

"Isn't it reasonable, this enthusiasm?" he asks. "First we were surprised with the cowboy and Indian pictures; then we were over-dosed with the melodramas, and the inevitable villains in them became distasteful; then the ultra-fashionable society drama became the producers' hardihood; then the costume picture was dragged out by the epaulets; then the sea story deluged us—I could go on and on, ad infinitum, mentioning the things that made us so callous.

RICHARD TALMADGE PICTURE AT WALKER MONDAY.

Tumbling, diving, twisting, turning, leaping, jumping, somersaulting, and hurtling through space in his most approved manner, Richard Talmadge, who acts with equal ease and facility whether he is standing on his head or his feet, climbs to new heights of entertainment in "The Mysterious Stranger," shown at Walker's theater next Monday, when it begins a three-day engagement.

The feature is distinctive and unusual. James Bell Smith, giving credit for the idea to Dr. Samuel Johnson's "History of Basileas, Prince of Abyssinia," has turned out a corking story from the idea which he gleaned by pouring over the sensational pages of the one-time dictator of English letters. There are a hundred hearty laughs in the production, and almost as many thrills, in which, of course, "Richard" is himself again. The sleep walking scenes, in which Dick goes out into the world for the first time in his young life clad only in pajamas, are delightfully developed, as are those in which he climbs over the wall of the insane asylum, under the impression that it is the wall of his own home. Jack Nelson has directed the picture with great skill, and the cast is entirely adequate.

HARRY CARROLL HEADS NEW ORPHEUM PROGRAM.

Next week's bill at Walker's theater promises to be one of the greatest that has ever been brought to this city. For many years associated with popular vaudeville revues of talent, music and comedy, Harry Carroll, well-known producer and song writer, is bringing his latest and greatest revue entitled, "Everything Will Be All Right." The entire production, cast and out-fittings are new, and presented on a scale of lavishness which challenges even the revues of the legitimate stage. The act runs almost an hour.

Critics always insist that comedy is the most difficult element to instill in a revue, and it is in its continuous laughter and humorous scenes that Carroll's offering takes pre-eminence. There are nine scenes, and most of these are of the sheerest comedy linked together by exceptional modern dancing of every variety and splendidly staged and costumed song numbers which accentuate the pulchritude of the young and dashing beauties of the ensemble.

Another big act that has just played Los Angeles, having been held over at the Orpheum there for two weeks, is offered by Bert and Betty Wheeler. Vaudeville always knew the worth of them. One day the Wheelers announced that they were going to leave vaudeville temporarily and would sing in musical comedy. Florenz Zeigfeld had given them an opportunity with the Polles, and they wanted to see what they could do in other fields. The powers that be in the two-day were very glad to give this opportunity and so by arrangement they were loaned to the producer of the Polles. The Polles, as most everybody knows is an all-star organization and while Bert and Betty Wheeler were expected to make a "hit," no one dreamed that they would "walk away" with the show, but that is exactly what they did.

Sidney Landfield is a singing, talking pianist. Ann Chandler believes he is the best accompanist there is to be found anywhere. Landfield believes that he is more than an accompanist and he is successfully proving to be right. The proof is to be found in an offering called "The Good Little Bad Boy," in which he plays as many a master would be glad to be able to play. He sings and then, too, does something very few musicians are capable of doing. He displays a genuine sense of humor, talking along freely in an exceedingly witty vein.

Mr. Bernt and his partner, a very good looking young girl, offer a clever act of flexibility, grace and art. This man and girl perform many difficult stunts which only contortionists can do. Their bends and twists and curves, however, are as gracefully done as those of a fine dancer. The only difference is that they bend and twist and turn to much greater degree.

"NIGHT LIFE OF NEW YORK" CLOSES TONIGHT.

Dorothy Gish, featured in Allan Dwan's picture, "Night Life of New York," has played many more "straight" roles—the serious, dramatic kind—than comedy ones during her career on the screen, yet film fans usually think of her as a comedienne.

"Isn't it funny!" she exclaimed, when reminded of the fact, "Ever since I started to earn my own living, which was when I was a very small girl, people have thought of me as a 'funny' person. It is said that one's real nature can't be hidden, and I suppose that's the answer—I just can't keep my sense of humor from bubbling over once in a while even when I'm playing a serious part."

"However, no matter how much I like comedy, I wouldn't want to be cast in a role which had nothing to do with comedy."

"Night Life of New York" closes at the Yost theater tonight.

FIVE VAUDEVILLE ACTS AT WALKER'S SUNDAY.

Sunday's vaudeville at Walker's theater consists of five standard acts that have been carefully chosen from three circuits. A resume of the acts follow:

The Beaux and Belle Revue with three young and pretty girls and three men make up one of the most pleasing delightful and singing acts yet offered to the public. This group presents a lot of new and novel ideas that have been seen to a great advantage in all of the best vaudeville theaters. Many changes of wardrobe with a very pretty stage setting make this revue a most splendid offering.

Billy and Ethel, "Comedy Ladders," have the most marvelous program of acrobats and sensational athletic feats every presented. They will offer an act noted for its artistic posing and acrobatic feats, unsurpassed.

The offering by Sheldon and Ducharme, entitled, "The Lollypop Kids," is unique and clever. There will be plenty of enjoyment meeting their offering and it is bound to score a hit with the audience.

Matt Martin in "Bits of Camouflage" is a somewhat different conjurer. His act new and novel and his tricks are not threadbare. He is surely a master at his trade and is bound to both please and puzzle any audience with his offering.

Alvin and Kenny present a novelty act that has been seen by all the audiences of the big time in the east. Their first appearance in the west has been as big a hit as it was in the east. The two boys are marvelously trained athletes.

Torture Bandits Make Large Haul

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—"Torture bandits" who twisted Sig Lazarus' arms in their sockets until he agreed to open his jewel safes and allow them to escape with a quarter of a million dollars worth of loot, were sought throughout Chicago and suburbs today. Four bandits entered the building where Lazarus operates a wholesale jewel office. They knocked the elevator operator unconscious, took the car to the seventh floor, entered the jewelry office and commanded Lazarus and all employees and customers to hold up their hands.

When Lazarus refused to unlock his "burglar safes," one bandit seized one arm and another bandit the other arm. Slowly twisting until Lazarus thought the flesh would soon tear, the bandits repeated their demands, warning that they would end their victim's suffering with a bullet if he cried out.

When the owner of the office reached the end of his fortitude, he gave up and opened the safe.

CHILDLESS HOMES

Read Mrs. Benedict's Letter Praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kewanee, Illinois.—"When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health. I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine. Last spring and summer I got all run-down, irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time. My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry. I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I am sure to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my teens and until I started taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MARY R. ## Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Bank Girls Enjoy Frolic at Home Of Mrs. Alice Cole

The girl employees of the First National bank and the Farmers and Merchants bank were entertained Thursday evening at a jolly picnic supper and frolic at the home of Mrs. Alice Cole, 604 North Cambridge street, Orange. Each guest brought her share of the delicious menu, which was arranged on a long table in the attractive closed-in porch of the Cole home.

Following the picnic supper, the guests spent the evening playing games, one of which was a mock wedding which was appropriately enacted at this time as three of the guests are to be married soon. Those taking part in the mock wedding were bride, Lillian Angle; bridegroom, Frances Potts; bridesmaid, Mildred Cook; best man, Opal Davis; flower girl, Harriet McCalla; ring bearer, Flora Hell; father of bride, Mable Drake; pianist, Lena Thomas; minister, Mrs. Alice Cole. This stunt came as a surprise to the rest of the guests and caused much merriment.

Following the stunt, a "messenger boy" came with presents for Miss Veronica Merrick, Miss Connie Woodside, and Miss Grace Nuskey, who are to be September brides.

The honored guests were completely surprised in receiving the gifts and upon opening them discovered kitchen utensils with a humorous piece of poetry attached to each article.

Those attending the frolic were Lillian Angle, Geraldine Bascom, Frances Battey, Jessie Carter, Mildred Cook, Lida Covert, Opal Davis, Iva Dilley, Mabel Drake, Melvina Frye, Edna Gammell, Muriel Jerome, Veronica Merrick, Hazel Miller, Harriet McCalla, Grace Nuskey, Frances Potts, Ise Schults, Lena Thomas, Grace Was, Constance Woodside, Mary Woodward, Cecil Best, Flora Hell, Irene Cumpston, Martha Whitson, Elizabeth Perkins, Blanch Plank, Mrs. Clayton and Mrs. Alice Cole.

Over 200 Attend Evening Party In Costa Mesa

More than 200 were present Thursday evening at the Costa Mesa clubhouse, when the Friday afternoon club entertained with an evening party. The program, which was full of entertaining stunts and skits, had been carefully arranged for the affair by the entertainment committee.

Some of the high lights of the evening were "the pillow slip" race, the darky sermon and the impromptu stunts performed by the guests.

Later in the evening, a dainty tray luncheon was served. For the success of the party, most credit was given Mesdames Alvin Block, C. G. Huston, E. Roberts and Miss Alice Plummer.

Ellis Rhodes Is Honored with Evening Party

Honoring Ellis Rhodes, who returned recently from New York City, Mesdames Nelson Bisei and Thomas Willets entertained for him recently at the charming new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bisei in Orange.

Mr. Rhodes, who is well known in musical circles in Santa Ana, joined his wife in New York City several weeks ago and the two journeyed to the western coast. Mrs. Rhodes, who is with the Dennishawn dancers, plans to leave shortly for Seattle for Japan, where the company will tour for some time.

Guests present at the party in Orange were from Glendale, Los Angeles, Anaheim, Santa Ana and Orange. Entertainment for the evening, which was impromptu in every way, consisted of playing musical games and listening to the program of music, both instrumental and vocal. Those who contributed to the program were Miss Mildred Webb, pupil of Mr. Rhodes, who sang several beautiful numbers, Monroe Sharpless, Alex Garoway, Earl Frazier, Miss Ruth Armstrong and little Betty Jo Willets.

Refreshments consisted of chicken salad, crackers, individual custards and whip cream and coffee. There were 30 present.

Midsummer Sailors' Ball at Yacht Club This Evening

A large and merry crowd is expected this evening at the Newport Harbor Yacht club, when the organization entertains at its second annual midsummer sailors' ball. The guests will come in costume and according to the clever invitation issued anything to do with the sea element, for instance, pirate, galley slave, marine, fisherman, will be appropriate.

Joe Martin's orchestra will furnish dance music and many favor and stunt dances are being planned for the affair.

Newport Kiddies Enjoy Frolic

At a pretty birthday party given at Newport Beach, Master Barclay Ralston, son of the Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Ralston, of the Newport Beach Methodist church, celebrated his fifth anniversary with a party of little friends.

Interesting games were engaged in by the boys and girls during the afternoon. Toward the close of the day's fun a treat of ice cream and cake was provided for the guests.

Among the friends of Master Ralston who were present were Harris Mathews, Marion Mathews, Katherine Thompson and Phyllis Thompson. Chaparrones for the little folk were Mrs. Jessie Coran, Mrs. Harris and Mrs. G. C. Ralston.

S. F. MAN BREAKS DRIVING RECORDS

Driving continuously from coast to coast in 102 hours and 45 minutes, without sleep or rest, certainly qualifies a man to speak with authority on handling a car, says H. A. Shugart of H. A. Shugart and Son, dealers for the Willis St. Claire and Franklin.

L. B. Miller, San Francisco business man, who recently broke all coast to coast records, driving his own Willis Saint Claire six roadster, has received a number of letters from interested drivers, asking him how it was physically possible for him to remain at the wheel for 102 hours, only being relieved half an hour each day by a friend who rode with him.

"On my recent drive from New York to San Francisco, I kept my muscles constantly relaxed except in cases of emergency," said Miller.

"The correctness of this theory was proven by the fact that while I was sleepy and exhausted physically at the end of the long 102 hour drive, 10 hours of sleep brought me back into shape. I felt no ill effects of the trip the next day. In fact, my muscles were not even sore."

"Naturally, a great deal of the credit is due to the easy riding and handling qualities of the car, and the easy position at the wheel, which was evidently planned by a student of human anatomy and not alone by a mechanical engineer."

MISS ANNIE LAURIE HAYS BECOMES BRIDE OF BEACH MAN AT CHARMING WEDDING

Coming as a climax in the late summer season, was the exquisite and beautiful wedding of Miss Annie Laurie Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Hays, prominent Santa Anans, to Raymond Henry Bradstreet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradstreet, Long Beach, which took place last evening in the First Baptist church.

The minister of the church was heavily banked with greenery, which served as a lovely background for the pink and white dahlias and asters arranged in floor baskets on the altar.

In the midst of this profusion of loveliness beautiful, tall tapering candles were placed in floor candelabra casting the illuminating glow on the reading of the marriage service.

White tulle caught in bewitching bows was stretched down the two main center aisles and it was in this enclosure that the relatives were seated.

While the guests were assembling, a short program of spiritual music was played very softly on the organ by Hamilton Dale Evans, organist for the church. His number included "Barcarole," by Offenbach, and "Tales from Hoffman." This was followed by the singing of "Because," by the Miss Elizabeth Serrin, Redlands, sorority sister of the bride, accompanied at the organ by Miss Eleanor Hadden, Huntington Park, another sorority sister.

From the pealing of the wedding bells, the organist then played Lohengrin's wedding march, while the bride party slowly took their places. First came the minister, the Rev. Otto Russell, and following him, the bridegroom, Raymond Bradstreet, and William Eugene Hays, best man and brother of the bride.

Then down the center aisles came the bridesmaids making a lovely picture in their attractive gowns of pastel shades and shower bouquets of sweet peas and pale pink roses. The dresses of the bridesmaids were alike, being made on easy long lines and the hats of the same shade completed the ensembles.

The first bridesmaid to enter was Mrs. Rolla Hays Jr., whose wedding of a recent date was one of the smart social affairs. Attending dress was pale blue. The bridesmaid who entered from the opposite side door and as each bridesmaid walked down one aisle the groomsmen attended her on the opposite aisle. Rolla Hays Jr. attended his wife.

Next came Miss Mary Anderson, Los Angeles, in yellow with Edith Brunton; then Miss Alis Shanks, Louisville, Ky., in house dress of pink and white, who was lovely in pink chiffon and was attended by Lawrence Cowan, Compton. They were followed by Miss Della Hudson, Long Beach, in pale green and Kemper Taylor, Santa Ana.

Then came the maid of honor, Miss Maybelle Baker, who was gown in orchid chiffon, heavily beaded. She wore a large picture hat with an orchid plume draped on one side.

Little Elizabeth Hays, 3-year-old sister of the bride, made an adorable little flower girl in a frock of pink ruffled taffeta with a rosebud wreath on her bodied hair.

Then came the bride, radiant and lovely in her white bridal gown and long veil, which was draped gracefully over the head with orange blossoms and hung in beautiful folds to the floor forming a train. The bride entered on the arm of her father. Her bridal bouquet was a shower of pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The only jewelry worn by the bride was a beautiful string of pearls and her engagement ring.

During the ceremony, the organist played softly "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and just after the minister had finished the service, perhaps the most touching part of the wedding came with the solo singing, "Annie Laurie," the famous Scotch love song.

Following the wedding, an informal reception was held at the Hays home, 2103 North Broadway, for the relatives and bridal party.

The bride has been the incentive of many pretty prenuptial parties, and although she has not lived in Santa Ana very long, she enjoys a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She was a southern girl, coming here with her parents from Owensboro, Ky., four years ago. She attended and was graduated from the Santa Ana high school and then entered the University of Redlands, where she met her husband.

Following a short honeymoon, the young couple will be at home to their friends in Redlands, where Mr. Bradstreet will attend the university, securing his degree this year.

Shriners Entertain With Picnic and Dance in Park

Because the first Orange County Shrine club picnic was such a success, the organization entertained again this week with a similar affair in Orange County park. A unanimous decision for another picnic, to be held at Balboa, September 10, was voted. Before the pot-luck supper was prepared, various games and sports were enjoyed. This included races for boys, girls and men and women, with prizes being awarded to the winners. The prizes were furnished through the courtesy of the Kelly Drug company, Roehm-Sylvester company, George W. Minter, D. L. Anderson, Santa Ana Book store, B. Utley, Joe Steele, of Santa Ana; Stanley Chapman, Fullerton and the Obar Drug company, Huntington Beach.

Following the supper, which was prepared and served by the ladies, the gathering adjourned to the pavilion where dancing was enjoyed.

Club Entertains At Dancing Party

The "L L" club entertained last evening at a delightful dancing party at the Rendezvous ballroom at Balboa. Following an evening of dancing, the guests were invited to the home of Mrs. J. H. Daniger, 1020 Kilson drive, where they enjoyed a midnight supper of ice cream, raspberry whip, French pastry and coffee. Members of the club are the Misses Ruth Robertson, Jennie Pollard, Nora L. L. and Mesdames Carl Edgar, William Penn, J. H. Daniger and George Chapman. The unmarried members have invited their gentlemen friends to the affair.

W. C. T. U. Board Meets With President In Garden Grove

The Orange county official board of the W. C. T. U. met Thursday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Estelle Harper, of Garden Grove.

An invitation from Huntington Beach to hold the county convention at that place was given by the local president, Mrs. J. Francis Clark. This invitation was accepted and the dates placed for Sept. 23-30.

A very urgent announcement was given by Mrs. Pearl K. Hess, county Y. P. B. secretary of the convention of the Southern California Young People's branch of the W. C. T. U., to be held on August 23 to 25, at Long Beach at the United Presbyterian church, Fifth and Atlantic streets.

The young people of the county are urged to attend. Those planning to attend shall call Mrs. Pearl Kendall Hess, 631 E. Jefferson street, Orange, as soon as possible so that she may attend to the entertainment. A splendid program is being arranged and a great time is expected.

The plans for the county convention were arranged and suggestions for the program were given. The county is also arranging for a booth and rest rooms at the county fair.

Mrs. Harper, assisted by her young daughter, Letty, served delicious watermelon. Those present including the hostess, Mrs. Estelle Harper, were Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, Mrs. Mina Tibball, Mrs. T. L. Warren of Santa Ana; Mrs. J. Frances Clark, Mrs. C. D. Heartwell and Mrs. Heartwell's sister, all of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Mabel Frost and Mrs. Pearl K. Hess of Orange; Mrs. Emma Blancher, El Modena; Mrs. Carrie Ford, Fullerton; Mrs. S. C. Marburger, Anaheim; Mrs. Lulu Beardsley, Garden Grove; Mrs. C. E. Utt, Tustin.

Mrs. L. Willits Is Complimented With Lawn Party

A lovely lawn party was given this week by Mrs. Willbur Willits, 1127 South Garvey street, in compliment to Mrs. Louis Willits, who before her marriage was Miss Rhoda Morris.

The lawn was made attractive with wicker rockers, while on the tables were placed beautiful bouquets of varied colored roses.

During the afternoon, while the guests sipped the honor, popular music was played on the phonograph, which also had been moved to the lawn.

Later in the afternoon, just before refreshments were served, Adeline Thornton presented the honor guest with a basket filled with lovely gifts.

Refreshments consisted of pineapple duff, wafers and iced punch. The guest list included Mesdames J. W. Allen, Z. C. Shidler, Thomas Willits, Martin, Viola Phipps, J. W. Morris, L. E. Morris, John Morris, Edie Willits, William Whitehead, Mrs. Arthur Heard, E. H. Layton and son, Glenn, and the Misses Martha Jones, Blanche Yokum, Adeline Thornton, and Gertrude Morris.

THE MACEDONIAN CALL

TEXT: Acts 16:15

Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia, after they were come to Mysia, they essayed to go into Bithynia; but the Spirit suffered them not. And they, passing by Mysia, came down to Troas. And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia and help us. And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavored to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the Gospel unto them. Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothrace, and the next day to Neapolis. And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony; and we were in that city abiding certain days. And on the Sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made, and sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she would obey the Gospel of the Lord. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D.D., Editor of The Congregationalist

The Macedonian call which came to Paul long ago and which was the occasion of the introduction of Christianity into Europe, has become symbolic of any call to a new and great task. It is a tribute to man's perception of such great incidents that they become symbolic in this way.

Paul was on his second missionary journey, accompanied as we remember not by Barnabas, with whom he had had a disagreement, but by Silas. He had come as far as Troas, and here a vision appeared to him in the night.

We do not know just what was the nature of this vision; probably it was in the form of a dream, but it was very real to Paul and its message was quite plain. He recognized it at once as a way in which God was calling him to a new field.

In the vision there appeared a man of Macedonia. This man of Macedonia besought Paul, saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us."

Had Many Visions. Visions played an important part in Paul's experience. Paul's whole religious life began in obedience to a vision. This he made very clear in his story of his experience before Agrippa. He told of the light that shined upon him as he went to Damascus, and his simple account of the matter was, "Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."

The same was true in this case. Immediately he arranged his plans to go into Macedonia. "Assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the Gospel unto them."

Paul came to Philippi, the chief city of Macedonia, and he stayed there for some time. On the Sabbath he went out by the river side "where prayer was wont to be made." It is not clear just who went there to pray, but there must have been some very devout souls in Philippi.

Probably they were Jews, and it is not unlikely that the reference may be to a group of Christian disciples who had already found their way over into Macedonia, for the indication is that the disciples spread very rapidly for reasons of trade or for other

An entertaining program which will include a talk by Dr. Frank Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, has been arranged for the dinner meeting of the junior chamber of commerce, at Ketter's cafe, Monday night, it was announced today by Leo Hartfield, chairman of the committee in charge. Dr. Porter will speak on "Building a City."

Other numbers will be vocal solos by Reginald Taylor, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Hurd; piano selections by 11-year-old Edward Stovall, and a "mystery" number.

Plans for the friendship tour which the chamber is sponsoring for September 9 will be discussed at the gathering. According to Secretary Bruce E. Switzer, 40 automobiles already have been lined up for the trip, with indications that probably 25 more will take part.

Jesse Elliott, as marshal of the day, and Roy Lyons, Charles Randall and L. C. Masters, representing the junior chamber, and Stanley E. Goode, the senior chamber, are busy making arrangements for the tour into surrounding districts.

The friendship tour is for all men of Santa Ana, regardless of membership in either the junior or senior bodies, Switzer states. The party will leave here at 9 a. m. and have luncheon at the Mission Inn, Riverside.

EXAMINATION FOR LICENSE TO BE GIVEN HERE MONDAY

Forty Persons Who Desire To Drive in California Scheduled to Take Test

500 DRIVERS HAVE MADE APPLICATION

Quiz Under New State Law
To Be Conducted in S. A.
By Capt. Henry Warner

Forty persons who want the privilege of driving automobiles in the state of California will take an examination for a driver's license at the office of Henry S. Warner, captain of the Orange county state motorcycle police, at the courthouse Monday.

It has been announced that 500 persons in Orange county have made applications for driver's licenses. These, in turn, will also be given tests as to their ability to handle an automobile, when their applications have been returned from Sacramento. Examinations will be held every Monday.

Law in Effect Last Month

The 40 who will be the first to take the tests under the new state law, which went into effect late in July, were the first to make application, and forms for their tests have just been received from Sacramento.

According to instructions received by the state police, the following listed are required to pass a state examination before licenses will be issued:

1. If applicant is under 18 years of age.
2. If applicant has driven a car less than six months.
3. If applicant's answers to any question are unsatisfactory.
4. If applicant has any physical disability.
5. If applicant's hearing or eyesight is deficient.

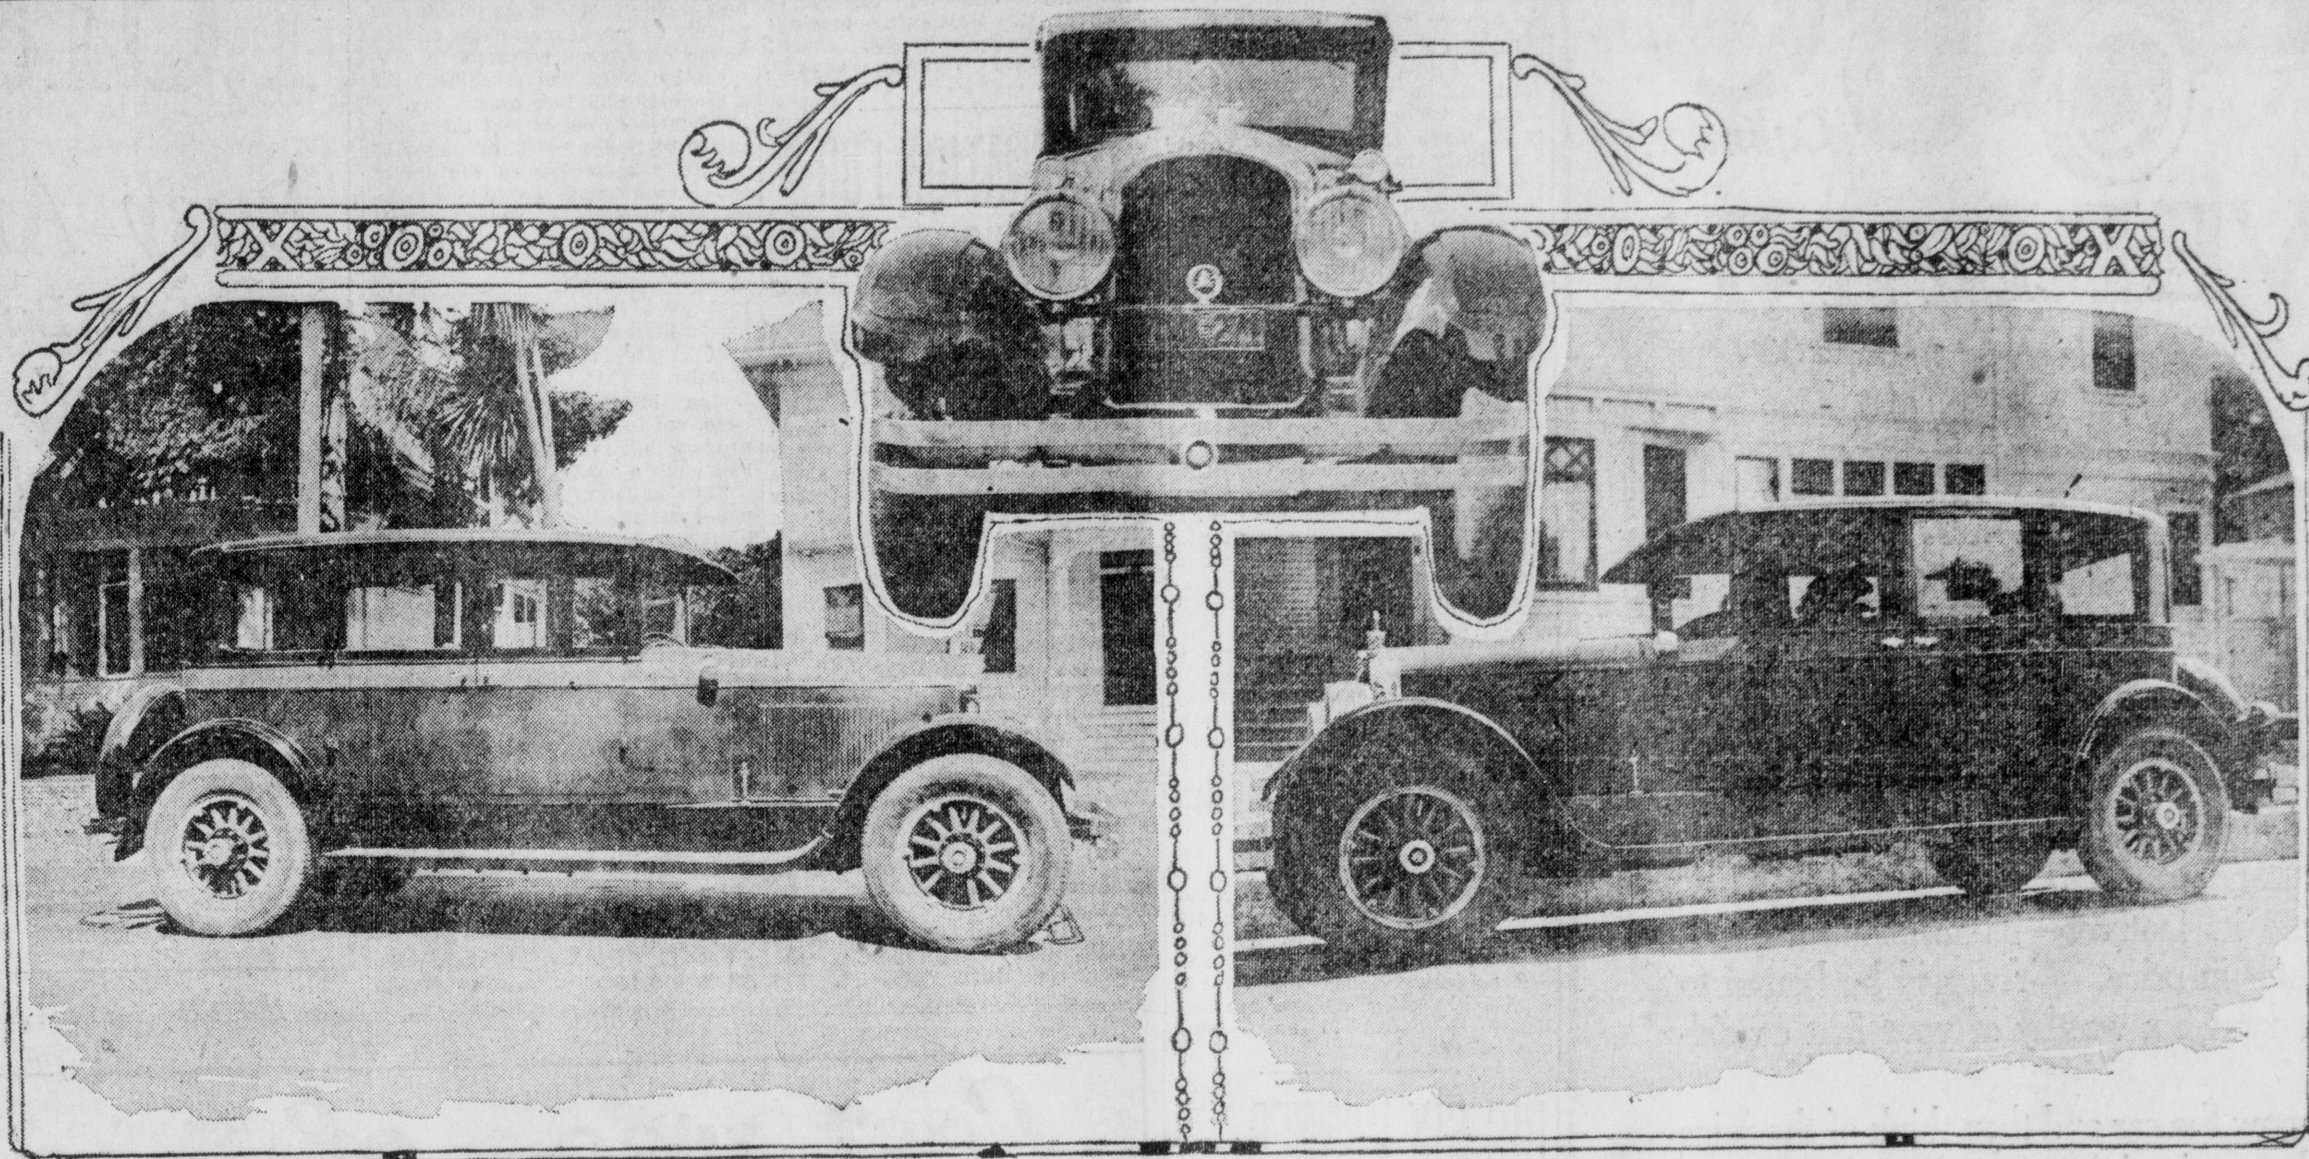

Applications are first made at the traffic office in the courthouse. These are sent to Sacramento, and special forms for the applicant are then mailed back to the local office.

Minors Need Signatures

Minors who apply must have the signature of both their parents, or guardians, or in case one of the parents is dead, a statement to this effect.

When the Sacramento office receives applications showing that examination will be required, applications will be returned to the county office. The head of the county office then notifies the applicant, naming time and place

BIG SIX FROM HUDSON-ESSEX ANAHEIM WINS ECONOMY RUN SALES BREAK LOCAL RECORD

The greatest number of cars of one make ever assembled for a sociability economy run competed for silver trophies August 12, when 20 veteran Studebaker cars, all having 50,000 miles or more to their credit, made a swing of 172 miles from Los Angeles to Lake Arrowhead and return. The run was conducted by the Studebaker Corporation of America. All the cars were privately owned and were entered by Studebaker dealers of Southern California. Fred Ross, sales manager for the Bowles Motor company, local Studebaker distributor, states.

The Big Six class trophy was won by Harry D. Riley, dealer at Anaheim, whose car was driven by Shattering local sales records in the six-cylinder field, the R. W. Townsend Motor company, Hudson and Essex distributors here, sold and delivered 27 cars during the first 22 days of this month, selling 17 of this number during the last three days. It was announced today by H. H. Traveller, sales manager.

"The sales record is simply proof that the public regards Hudson and Essex cars, in their present design and price, as outstanding values," said Traveller. "That feeling has been growing every day and every month. That belief grows not because of any particular feature or talking point, but because of the simplicity, reliability

ORANGE COUNTY'S SHARE OF CALIFORNIA VEHICLE FEES AGGREGATES $68,881

Orange county's share of the motor vehicle registration fees for the first six months of the year totals $68,881.48, according to figures released today by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles. Of this amount, $7,332.46 was withheld to pay the traffic officers' salaries for the first half of the year and $7,125 for the second half, leaving a balance of $54,424.02.

Half of the money will be placed in the county good roads fund and the other half will be divided among the five supervisorial districts for district road improvements.

Registrations in Orange county up to June 30 were: Automobiles, 28,757; solid trucks, 588; pneumatic trucks, 3345; motorcycles, 256; trailers, 1137.

Marsh's report shows a total registration of motor vehicles, exclusive of trailers, of 1,382,821, and a gross apportionment of fees to the counties of $2,738,158.52, and indicates a healthy increase in registrations in practically every county of the state.

The sum of $171,187.06, representing paid traffic officers in the first six months, and $205,149.49 withheld to meet the salaries for the last six months, are deducted from the share of the counties, leaving a net total to be used for highway repair and maintenance of $2,351,821.97.

Total redistributions for the state show the following segregations: Automobiles, 1,120,017; solid trucks, 39,974; pneumatic trucks, 153,784; motorcycles, 3792. There were 15,033 exempt licenses, 11,260 dealer's licenses and 24,232 non-resident registrations.

Los Angeles led in registrations and received $1,082,175.44, the largest share of any county. San Francisco was second and Alameda third. Alpine was lowest.

Affidavit Must Be Furnished By Box Back Owners

SACRAMENTO, Cal. Aug. 22.—Owners of small cars equipped with box backs will be required to submit an affidavit covering the uses to which the vehicle is put, in order, to secure its registration under the regular automobile license fee, Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles announced today.

Owners of such vehicles were relieved from payment of the higher commercial fee by an amendment to the law, recently effective, which provided that box back cars used only incidentally for commercial purposes could be registered under the regular $3 fee. An affidavit will be necessary, Marsh said, to prevent persons using such cars entirely for commercial purposes, from taking advantage of the new act.

31,904 Persons Enter State In 45-Day Period

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Indicating the ever-increasing number of easterners, who are visiting Los Angeles and Southern California by automobile, A. C. Fleury, of the state department of agriculture, released a report recently showing that from May 15 to June 30, 1925, 31,904 persons entered Southern California by automobile, as of 18,738 for the same period of the previous year.

Motorists for the period in 1925 arrived here in 11,215 cars, while the 45-day stretch for 1924, 5610 cars were utilized.

Routes leading through Yuma, Blythe and Daggett were traveled, according to Fleury's report, with Yuma slightly leading in popularity over Daggett.

The Blythe route this year was shunned by many motorists, due to bad roads, but these highways now are in course of repair and soon will be restored to good condition, it was pointed out.

LONG JAUNT IN CADILLAC COSTS OHIO MAN $1.35

Outside of expenditures for gasoline and oil, but $1.35 was spent on the Cadillac V-8 during the 5100-mile trip between Cleveland and Los Angeles, according to Fred Herman, who made the jaunt. Herman is a personal friend of William R. Sylvester and E. R. Roehm, officials of Raehm-Sylvester company, of this city.

The $1.35 was spent for grease for the axle bolts and was the only money spent on the car throughout the trip. Mr. Herman told his local friends.

Leaving Cleveland, Mr. Herman traveled by way of Chicago, St. Paul, Yellowstone National park, Portland and San Francisco. He arrived in Southern California with the original air in his tires. The car had been driven 10,381 miles before the trip was begun.

"I have always been an admirer of the Cadillac and the trip convinced me that it is the car," declared the Cleveland man. "We encountered all kinds of roads, but the Cadillac always pulled through without difficulty."

Mr. Herman's route was mapped out beforehand by Elmer Heidt, of the Automobile Club of Southern California. The Cleveland man wrote to his Santa Ana friends and they asked Mr. Heidt to make up a list of roads, hotels and garages for Mr. Herman.

According to George L. Ball, sales manager for the Cadillac Garage company, Cadillac and Oakland distributors here, Mr. Herman has practically decided to make his home in California. The Cleveland man is now in Los Angeles.

Some of the miniature craft used in the now popular sport of model yacht racing cost as much as one thousand dollars each, being designed and built to the exact specifications of the international classes of real yachts, proportionately reduced, of course.

SLEEPERS TAKE EXTENSIVE TRIP IN NEW MARMON

"I'm more convinced than ever that the Marmon is a great automobile," says James Sleeper, county assessor, who with Mrs. Sleeper has just returned from a lengthy motor trip to Oregon in his new five-passenger sedan.

"When I decided to turn in my old Marmon, I looked at several different makes but a ride in them made me realize that something was lacking. Then I got into a Marmon and I knew what it was."

Behaved Perfectly

"On our trip to the north, the sedan behaved perfectly. We made all hills on high and averaged nearly 13 miles to the gallon of gas. Considering the fact that a large portion of the driving was in the mountains and the fact that the car was brand new, this is really a good mileage."

Sleeper drove his old Marmon, a touring car, a distance of 75,000 miles. According to Frank Hammit, manager of Hall Motors, Marmon and Rickenbacker distributors here, the car is still going strong and is capable of doing 80 miles per hour any time.

Cars Have Long Life

"Long life is built into the Marmon," declared Hammit. "They are made to last a long time, so it was not an accident that Mr. Sleeper's car went 75,000 miles."

"The county assessor's former car is still a good automobile, despite the number of miles it has been driven. All Marmons are that way. There is a saying 'Once a Marmon owner, always one.' The fact that Mr. Sleeper bought another Marmon after driving one for 75,000 miles is an indication of the truth of that statement."

Travel 2234 Miles

The Sleepers left here August 3. They went by way of Santa Cruz, Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Shasta Springs, Medford, Crater Lake, ending their journey at Klamath Falls, Ore. The distance covered was 2234 miles. Approximately 1000 of this was over mountain roads, Sleeper says.

"We didn't even have a puncture on the trip," said Sleeper. "The Marmon purred over stiff hills as though they weren't there. We came back home realizing that there is no car like the Marmon. We probably will drive our new car further than the old one and if we do, I am sure that it will still give Marmon service."

Prices Not Coming Down

According to Manager Hammit, Marmon contemplates no further price reductions.

"Marmon prices were greatly reduced last October, before the other manufacturers came down," said Hammit. "As a matter of fact, the problem of the Marmon factory is to keep from increasing the prices, since many of the quality materials that go into Marmon models have increased in price."

"If you will stop a moment and compare what Marmon is offering at its present prices, you will see that Marmon is giving a greater value per dollar than its competition. For example, take the Marmon frame. Marmon uses a frame construction of compelling virtue which only Marmon, in the fine car field, is licensed to use."

AUTO DEATHS DURING 1925 EXPECTED TO BREAK RECORD

Morotists' Associations Assert Traffic Is Better Regulated Than Before

REGISTRATIONS ON INCREASE IN U. S.

Improved Road Conditions Accounted As Factors in

By ROBERT T. SMALL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—While official figures are not yet available here, there is no longer any doubt but that 1925 will outstrip all its predecessors in the matter of automobile deaths. This state of affairs is said not to be due so much to increased recklessness in the handling of cars, but to increased traffic on country roads and city streets. Motorists' associations, having their headquarters in Washington, insist that traffic is better regulated this year than ever before, and also assert that the skill of licensed drivers is more in evidence, but thus far no means have been devised of dealing with the unprecedented number of new machines and new operators.

Registrations Increase
Already in the District of Columbia several thousand more machines have been registered this year than for the entire year of 1924 and the heavy registration season is still to come. The same condition is said to be true in the various states.

There never has been a summer like the present one for tourists. The roads are fairly black with them. Secretary Hoover, of the department of commerce, returning recently from a trip through the west, said that he saw automobile campers everywhere. The same reports come from the south and east. Hotel proprietors say their business from overnight tourists this year is more than double that of a year ago.

Money Plentiful
Improved road conditions, greater prosperity of the people as a whole, the presence of what may be called "easy money," and the increasing desire of the American family for a vacation all are accounted as factors in the heavy auto travel to be observed everywhere.

August is the real vacation month in the United States and the railroads are reporting heavy travel on their lines in all directions. The increase of train "tripping," however, has not kept pace with the multiplication of vehicles on the roads.

Deaths Mounting

The latter traffic is resulting in far more accidents than were recorded in 1924 and the toll of deaths is mounting daily. There are not only the deaths to pedestrians caused by automobilists but the appalling toll being taken of the riders themselves. Despite all the precautions and warnings at grade crossings, the tide of death in this type of crash is running steadily at the flood. Reckless driving still is apparent on the roads everywhere. The most amazing thing the authorities have to deal with in police the roads is the persistence with which some drivers insist upon driving on the wrong side of the road. This is particularly true at dangerous curves. The percentage of fatal accidents due to wrong side driving is both startling and discouraging. For this at least is one fault which seemingly could be remedied overnight by the motorists themselves.

Note the impressively lower prices—compare Oakland with the field—see how it outclasses all Sixes under $1500 and all Fours regardless of price.

Drivers "Hug" Wrong Side
In many of the states, particular attention is being paid to statistics on this wrong-side driving and when the reckoning finally is made for 1925, the figures are likely to cause a sensation. No one knows just why a driver should "hug" the inside of a curve when turning to the right, but they do it in all too many cases and a machine coming in the opposite direction is too often encountered with disastrous results.

There is very generally and very just complaint among motorists that the American roads are not wide enough. States and counties have made an effort to pile up mileage in road construction and in this way have made their highways as narrow as possible so as to string them out as long as possible with the same amount of money.

Authorities Puzzled
The wisdom of this course is being realized at last and widening work is in process in many localities. But who matters the width of the road, certain drivers will drift just as certainly and just as disastrously to the wrong side as a moth hovers about a flame.

State traffic authorities are just about at their wits' ends to handle the horde of summer motorists. They say the most discouraging thing in the world is to read the daily records of new car outputs. Where all the machines are going no one can say. There is bound to be a limit somewhere.

BIG SIX WINNER OF ECONOMY RUN

Curt Henderson, manager of his branch at Orange. This car came through with an average of 18.1 miles to the gallon of gasoline. The car used little oil and water. The trophy for the class is a silver cup offered by the Gilmore Oil company, whose gasoline was used on the run.

The Special Six class trophy was won by the Alhambra Garage, of Alhambra, sub-dealers under Keller brothers, Pasadena. This car, driven by E. G. Seely, came through with an average of 16.5 miles to the gallon, and like the Big Six, used little oil and only a small amount of water. The trophy for this class is a silver cup offered by the Arrowhead Lake company, through its president, J. B. Van Nuys.

The Standard or Light Six class trophy was won by Keller brothers, Pasadena dealers. This car, driven by J. H. Adams, came through with a gasoline average of 30.5 miles to the gallon, used less than a pint of oil, and less than a pint of water.

The winning Big Six had a total mileage to its credit of 186,815 miles. The winning Special Six had a total of 61,231 miles to its credit, and the winning Light Six had a total of 75,895 miles to its credit. The total mileage of all cars entered amounts to 1,873,156 miles. This is an average of 93.657 miles per car. The oldest cars entered were models manufactured in 1919.

The run was the fourth veteran Studebaker Economy Run to be staged in Southern California. Starting at 209 feet above sea level in Los Angeles, the cars climbed to an altitude one mile high on their run into the San Bernardino mountains, where Lake Arrowhead is located.

the applicant is to appear for examination.
Most of the applications made to date are by minors, according to Capt. Warner, although there are a number who reported they had been in the state only a short time.

Verbal Questions First
Verbal questions will be asked the applicants first, when they appear at the office, and doubtful answers will mean that the applicant will have to get in his machine and prove to a motorcycle officer beyond the question of a doubt that he or she is capable of taking care of the machine in traffic.

Many of the questions will pertain to the state laws, signaling and other little points that are necessary in capably handling an automobile, Captain Warner intimated.

"It will not be a question of shifting gears and showing the officer the finer points of the

REDUCE PRICES ON DODGE CARS

"The new Dodge prices come at a time when Dodge brothers' product has reached the highest peak of mechanical perfection in its history," declares L. D. Coffing, of the L. D. Coffing company, new Dodge dealer here.

"In an attempt to supply public demand, factory production has been stepped up since the first of this year from 990 cars a day to the present rate of over 1,100 and now Dodge brothers are pushing as rapidly as possible an eight million dollar expansion program to give them buildings and machinery for a production of 1500 cars a day.

"This price cut is just the application of Dodge brothers' policy of faithfully returning to the buyer the saving made possible by increased production. Since the first of this year, production has been steadily increased month after month. The first six months of 1925 were the largest in the factory's history, more than 11 per cent greater than the first six months of 1924. The problem for Dodge brothers executives has been, not to find a market for their product, but to increase production to supply a ready market.

"The constantly increasing, yet never satisfied, demand for Dodge brothers motor cars is convincing evidence that a motor wise public is more and more appreciative of the greater value made possible by Dodge brothers sound policy of constantly improving a basic design instead of bringing out a new model every year."

The price drop was effective October 17. The prices on all models excepting the roadster and the chassis were reduced.

car, but we want to know that the new drivers have learned and are ready to comply with the laws, as well," he said.

NEW 6-CYLINDER REO TRUCK JOB IS ANNOUNCED

A new two-ton Reo heavy duty truck with six cylinders is announced by the Reo Sales and Service company of 414-16 West Fifth street, Orange county, distributors for Reo.

Among the features of the latest Reo product is a larger wheel base, five-ton rear end, more speed, and a larger and roomier closed cab.

"The new Reo two-ton truck will travel 30 miles an hour with a full load, without effort," it was stated today at the sales office. "The big six-cylinder engine provides ample power."

"The Reo factory has built one of the most comfortable truck cabs we have ever seen. There is plenty of leg room for the driver."

"The Reo is built entirely in the Reo shops and is not an assembled job. This is one of the reasons why the truck gives such wonderful service to owners. It is built right in the first place."

"The automatic oil fed overhead valve rocker mechanism, protected from dust and dirt by a pressed steel cover, its relative accessibility, and its freedom from noise and vibration makes the Reo six-cylinder engine ideal for service in the heavy duty field."

Demand for Cars Manufactured In U. S. World Wide

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The whole world is riding in American motor vehicles. Evidence of the wide-spread use of this country's automobiles was shown by the shipment during the first half of this year, according to a statement by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, of 16 motor trucks to Greenland, seven passenger cars to Iceland, while at the other extreme of climate, Belgian Congo in the heart of Africa, received 23 passenger cars and 87 trucks.

HUPMOBILE SALES SHATTER RECORD

Sales of Hupmobiles in July by the Hupp Motor Car corporation again broke all records for corresponding period in the company's history. According to J. J. Robertson, manager of the Moulton company, local distributors, the month was one of the three largest in Hupp's entire history.

"Factory sales of Hupmobile eight to distributors and dealers reached the highest total they have ever attained," Robertson said. "They surpassed the previous high record, made in June, by nearly 400 cars. They more than doubled those for May."

"The July demand for eights was perhaps the greatest ever enjoyed by a manufacturer of high quality motor cars. Heavy production throughout August is being carried out in our effort to catch up with the sales stimulus recently brought about by sweeping reductions at the beginning of the season on all eight cylinder models."

"Shipments of the eight have reached a remarkable high figure, doubly remarkable when one remembers that this record was made by a brand new car of a type even now just coming into its own among those who can afford to enjoy the utmost in smoothness of operation. The Hupmobile eight each month is making even more dominant its position as the largest selling car of its type in the world."

The Hupp company reports that its July sales were 59 per cent higher than those for July, 1924. Sales volume in dollars registered an even larger increase, due to the eight cylinder car. Its sales for June and July were 76 per cent higher than those of the same two months of 1924 and 102 per cent more than for those months in 1923.

Variety Store To Be Opened at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—The first low priced variety store ever established in this city will be opened here about September 1, according to an announcement made today by C. G. Ward, the proprietor. The store will be located at 305 Main street, in the building formerly occupied by the Square Deal grocery. It will be known as the "H. B. Five Cents to One Dollar" store.

WAR ACE SPEAKER AT L. A. LUNCHEON

Rickenbacker sales during July were an increase of 400 per cent over those of the same month last year, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World war ace and vice president of the Rickenbacker Motor company, declared in a talk given at a luncheon in Los Angeles Monday.

"An automobile must be free of vibration," said Rickenbacker. "It must be able to do 60 miles per hour without laboring in order that the driver may 'play' with the hills."

Rickenbacker, who drove a car equipped with four-wheel brakes as early as 1910, told of making an exhaustive study of four brakes and of convincing business associates of the necessity for the four-wheel variety.

"When we decided to make an automobile, we decided to build for the future," said Rickenbacker. "That is why the Rickenbacker has an eight-inch frame, the oil recifier, the air cleaner; why the six has seven main bearings; why the eight has nine main bearings."

According to Rickenbacker, the company bearing his name has no outstanding bonds or mortgages. The company owns its own body works and is entirely free from debt, he stated.

Members of the Hall Motors organization, distributors here for the Rickenbacker and Marmon cars, attended the luncheon given in Rickenbacker's honor.

Sale of two Rickenbackers, a vertical eight sedan and a six brougham, to C. W. Yonge, and the Yonge-Elliott company, and a brougham to William Ross, is announced by Hall Motors.

OAKLAND BRAKES GIVE CONFIDENCE

How would you like to thrust your neck down on the pavement and take a chance on having your Adam's apple squashed by a big, fat tire of a motor car? asks George Ball, sales manager for the Cadillac Garage company, Oakland agents. It takes nerve to do stunts like that. That is why Harvey Parry, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer movie stunt man, draws such a fat pay check.

"The other day, someone drove into the lot at Culver City with one of the new series Oakland sixes with mechanical four-wheel brakes and Wellman dared me to let him see how close he could come to running over my neck without choking me," says Parry. "I took him up because I know Wellman and I have had experience with four-wheel brakes on an Oakland."

"I lay down on the pavement. Wellman backed off about 200 feet, started in low, dropped hastily into second and then into high and when just about 10 feet from me, he put on the brakes just enough to let the balloon tire ooze up onto my neck and give me a little pinch. The brakes were so certain in their operation and effectiveness that he could have cracked the crystal of a watch without damaging the case or the works. With brakes like the Oakland has, there is little excuse for fatal accidents. The car is under control at all times."

DESIGN OVERLAND MODEL FOR POWER

"The new Overland model was expressly designed to answer the call for a beautiful car with plenty of power and pickup, a quality car, roomy and comfortable, at a price the moderately income family can afford," says Ray Schanbals, 902 North Main street, local Overland and Willys-Knight dealer.

"As a result, with this idea dominant, rather than the urge to meet any particular class of competition, the Overland six standard sedan has been thoroughly engineered, painstakingly designed and closely priced, and now the new reduced price gives it an extra value appeal."

"It has one of the peppiest six-cylinder motors I have ever driven. Take it out in the hills, over the boulevards, anywhere your fancy may dictate, and put it to the test, and then come back and tell me what you think."

"Let anyone drive it around so you can stand off and get an idea of how it looks to the average man on the street, and tell me what you think of the lines, the low swing of the car from the radiator to the spare tire, the wide, full-vision plate-glass windows, and snug, low-lined top."

"The doors are extra wide, each swung on four stout hinges. Entrance to the rear compartment is thus made most convenient. The seats are fitted at the most comfortable riding angle. The steering wheel is slanted so that the driver's hands just naturally rest there, making long drives completely restful."

Your Battery Needs It

FREE TESTING AND FILLING is the rule at our stations because the batteries need it regularly and will not perform as they should without it. We bar no battery. We test and fill any and all makes without charge. Just drive up any time. The service is yours. We do repair work on all makes of batteries, too. (And we sell Willard Batteries, of course.)

USED OIL SOLD BY FIRM, CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Start of a national campaign to protect motorists against oil that has been used was signaled with filing of a suit by the Better Business Bureau here against the Penn Oil company, asking an injunction to prevent sale of crank case drainage as new oil.

The bureau announced that similar suits were being instituted in various cities throughout the country.

The suit charges specifically that the company is selling used oil drained from high crank cases as new high grade oil. The drainage costs from 13 to 20 cents a gallon while motorists pay $1.20 for it.

"With more than 17,000,000 motor vehicles in operation, the substitution evil has grown to tremendous proportions," the bureau stated.

The victory of the University of Washington crew over California will doubtless make the Huskies a favorite to repeat in the coming national regatta at Poughkeepsie.

In the season of 1908 Pitcher Lou Durham of the Indianapolis club, earned a niche in the baseball Hall of Fame by pitching five double-headers and winning all.

TIRE STORY WITH MORAL IS RELATED

"Practicing what you preach is a pretty good policy," says Jack Ollivari, 107 South Main street, local Goodyear dealer, in telling of the following incident:

A Newmark representative discovered the importance of being consistent in all things when he called upon a grocer in Santa Ana recently to talk about coffee roasted in California.

"Where's your car parked?" asked the grocer. "Up the block a piece," said the Newmark representative. "Let's have a look at it," suggested the grocer, and he and his clerk walked a half-block with the coffee man. "I wanted to see your tires," explained the grocer. "I believe in practicing what you preach, and now that I find you've got Goodyear California-made tires on your car, I'm willing to listen to the rest of your story."

"This man was right," says Ollivari. "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. The moral of this story is that you folks who are talking home industry to sell your own products, better check yourself up a bit lest you be checked up like the Newmark representative was."

DODGE BROTHERS COMMERCIAL CAR

With the following improvements in the Panel Commercial Car, Dodge Brothers have gone beyond current practice both in point of smart appearance and greater comfort for the driver:

A closed cab is now provided, steel throughout, with a full-length and extra wide steel door. The windows, operating in noiseless runways, are raised and lowered as in passenger cars.

The seat is deeply cushioned and equipped with a spring back, hinged to fold forward, assuring exceptional riding comfort. The tire carrier is under the rear, freeing the full area of the side panels for display advertising.

Attractive and practical in design, this sturdy car offers the additional advantage of complete, year-round protection from rain and cold.

Billy Evans Says

Ed Rommel, pitching ace of Connie Mack's Athletics, is having a most unique and wonderful season. Not only has Rommel already achieved the distinction of being the first major league twirler to win 20 games, but he also has the best record as relief pitcher. Managers as a rule do not call upon their pitching aces out of turn. Rommel has been an exception.

In this respect he has made an even better showing than Fred Marberry of Washington, considered the king-pin relief pitcher of the majors.

Rommel works easy, is usually blessed with excellent control and probably exerts himself less in pitching a game than any other twirler in the majors.

That explains why Connie Mack calls upon him so often in the pinch. He warms up quickly and puts little or no strain on his arm.

MACK'S PATIENCE
If Connie Mack succeeds in winning the American league pennant it will be a just reward for his great patience.

Even though he does no better than the runnerup position he will have realized his ambition, the building of another great ball team. In 1914, after being beaten in the world series in four straight games by the Boston Braves, Mack proceeded to wreck his great club inside of a year, by sale, he disposed of most of his star players, so that there remained only the skeleton of his once great team.

For seven consecutive years he finished in last place. Since 1914 he has not once finished in the first division. Despite this Mack was ever optimistic.

It took a lot of patience to go through so long a vigil in an effort to mold together another winning club but Mack has finally hit on the combination.

The Athletics of 1925 are a well-rounded aggregation, with no weakness, unless it is the knowledge that comes only with experience.

VALUE OF POISE
Perhaps no better example could be offered of Connie Mack's patience than his handling of Pitcher "Slim" Harris.

Harris joined the Athletics in 1920. He was the sensation of the Texas League, touted a sure winner in the American.

For five years Harris has been a member of the Mackmen. Not once has he broken even in games won. As a matter of fact, his best year was his first.

The possessor of every physical requisite, Harris simply was unable to hit a winning stride. First it would be lack of control, then inability to field bunts, sometimes failure to hold the runners on the bases.

Always something would handicap Harris in his effort to establish himself as a real big leaguer. Mack, through all his adversity never once lost faith in his big pitcher.

One word, poise, or rather the lack of it, tells the story of the first five years of Harris' big league career. Now that he has acquired that rather indefinable trait, he is winning consistently.

JUDGE, WASHINGTON STAR IS 'BEANED'

DETROIT, Aug. 22.—Joe Judge, Washington first baseman, was "beaned" in the second inning of the game with the Tigers here yesterday.

Whitehill was pitching for Detroit and Judge was at bat at the time.

Judge, although bowled over by the blow, was not knocked unconscious. He got up again unassisted but was unable to continue playing and was helped to the clubhouse, where it was decided to send him to a hospital for examination.

ATHLETIC KNUCKLE BALL ACE HOPES TO CAPTURE 30 GAMES

WANTS TO WIN 30 BALL GAMES.

Ed Rommel, pitching ace of Connie Mack's Athletics, is cherishing one large ambition of the 1925 model.

He wants to win 30 ball games this year.

Rommel is particularly anxious to win that many for two reasons. First, it has been some years since a big league pitcher has hit that figure. Most important, however, is the fact that he believes it will get him into the world series.

Mack's knuckle ball artist has a great chance to achieve his ambition. In the first 100 games played by his club he turned in 23 wins. He hopes to win half that many in the remaining 50 of the season.

Despite the fact that he is built along slender lines, Rommel is a glutton for work. He works easily, always has something in reserve and pitches with his head as well as his arm.

The fact that Rommel, aside from being Mack's twirling ace, is also his king-pin relief pitcher, gives some evidence of the ease with which he works.

Has Chance for Mack
During the remainder of the season it is certain Rommel will get plenty of action. If it is up to some pitcher to hold a one

U. S. Golf Body Adopts Rule On Club Smoothing

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The United States Golf association in a circular issued today announced the adoption of a recent ruling of the Royal and Ancient Golf club of St. Andrews, applicable to playing a ball out of a hazard.

The new ruling is as follows: "When a ball lodges in a hazard and the player does not play it out on the first stroke, the player may smooth with his club, the heel marks made by his stance, without penalty providing the player does nothing to improve the lie of the ball or assist the player in his subsequent play at the hole."

or two-run lead late in the game, that task is sure to be handed to Eddie.

For that reason it would be no great surprise if Rommel hits the 30-game mark in games won, perhaps exceed that figure.

Rommel should start about 12 of the last 50 games to be played by the Athletics. He should win at least seven of them. If he gets the breaks as relief pitcher, he should capture three or more victories. That would bring him up to the 30-mark in victories.

Rommel is in his sixth year as a member of the Athletics. Even in the tallent days of the Mackmen he was a most effective and dependable workman.

Three years ago, with a cellar ball club, he was the pitching sensation of the majors, annexing 27 victories and losing 13 games.

Better Season Certain
With a much better ball club back of him this year, Rommel is practically assured of an even better season. In 1922 his pitching was a wasted effort; this year it may mean the right to play in the world series.

Great control, a dazzling knuckle ball and a good curve are Rommel's chief stock in trade. Incidentally, he has plenty of courage and is a brilliant fielder. When Rommel pitches the Athletics have five infielders.

Connie Mack says 1925 is a Philadelphia year. There is no doubt about it being a Rommel year.

LA BARBA AND GENARO MATCH IS ON TONIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Frankie Genaro, American fly-weight champion and possessor of a "wicked right hand" faces the greatest test of his fist career at the Ascot open-air arena to-night when he meets Fidel La Barba, Pacific Coast champ and exponent of the left fist, for the world's flyweight title. The fight is scheduled to go ten rounds.

The camps of both fighters, as usual and as is expected, are prophesying a victory for their fighter. Phil Bernstein, who has managed Genaro through two victorious and one no decision fight with Pancho Villa, whose death left vacant the title which is at stake tonight, is confident of victory. On the other hand, George Blake, who has produced more amateur champions than any other coach in the country and who is managing La Barba, declares the possibility of a knock-out for his scrapper.

While Genaro's record is an impressive one, La Barba has little history. His record is not even in the latest record books as he has been a professional for less than a year. He has fought only ten fights in that time. But his ten fights will make a deep impression on the next record book to be published and he is by no means a decided "under dog."

La Barba is just out of high school and his whole aim is to earn enough money fighting to make his way through college. If he wins the title tonight he will soon abandon it and settle down to the books of learning. But this in no way will cause him to fight with a lesser degree of zest than he might if he intended to hold the crown. La Barba claims he experienced the greatest sensation of his life when he won the amateur championship of the world in the Olympic games of 1924 and he wants to have the same feeling after the fight tonight.

Dick Donald, promoter of the fight, and his secretary, Don Hutchinson, declare that nothing has been left undone in the way of preparation for tonight's program. The ring, seating arrangement and lights are complete and plans to afford the greatest comfort to every spectator have been made. It is confidently expected that the gate will total $75,000, which will be a new record for California.

The preliminary fighters are ready, eliminating the possibility of substitutions. The semifinals promises to be a battle between Juan Belza, Chilean lightweight, and Sammy Santos, San Diego favorite.

But the most important thing of the day is that a new world flyweight champ will step from the ring at Ascot arena before the town clock strikes midnight unless it is called a draw by Referee Harry Erle, of Jersey City, and this is not considered a probability by boxing experts.

Frankie Monroe Defeats Campagno

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Frankie Monroe, a sweet looking featherweight, slugged his way to a win over Sammy Campagno, San Francisco, at the Hollywood Legion stadium last night. The result was never in doubt.

STATIC END SEEN AHEAD BY EXPERTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—"Static can never be eliminated," says Thomas A. Edison.

Such a definite statement coming from the "electrical wizard" has renewed the popular discussion of the static evil.

Many important radio investigators have challenged Edison's statement and are firm in their opinion that static can be eliminated.

Dr. A. N. Goldsmith, chief broadcast engineer, Radio Corporation of America, says, "Radio broadcasting is too big an institution to be a puppet in the hands of changeable atmosphere."

Static Understood
"The problem of combatting static is now fully understood—and that is more than half the battle."

"The broadcast transmitter must be prepared to transmit many times the power which is normally required for providing a good signal in the territory served."

"In that manner broadcasting stations can serve its listeners on the warmest, static-infested night as well on the cold, dry nights of the winter."

Other radio experts believe that the static evil can be eliminated.

The recent announcement made by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, engineer and radio expert of the General Electric company, that static and fading are due to be eliminated by the use of horizontal polarized radio waves is causing much comment.

Experiments looking toward the practical development of this theory have already been carried on by David Grimes.

Polarized Waves
"A great deal can be done toward eliminating static by means of a system of polarized waves," says Grimes.

"In order to understand how polarized waves may be made effective in eliminating static," Grimes continues, "any broadcast listener operating a loop receiver may carry on a conclusive experiment for himself."

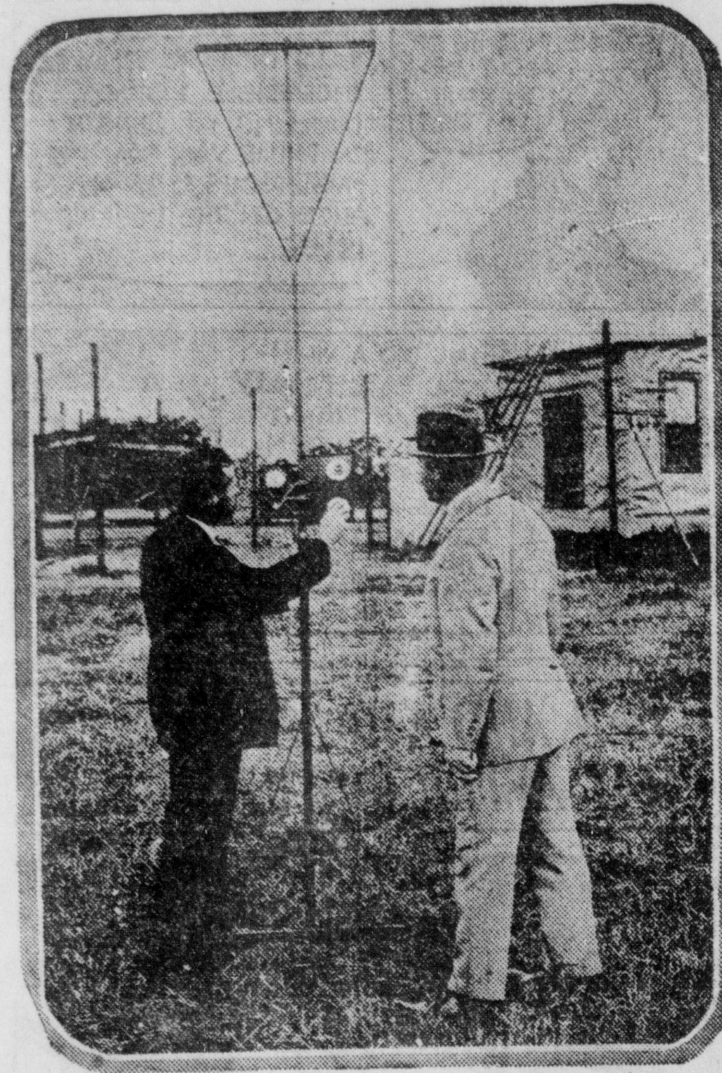

"On some nights when the static is particularly severe, it will be found that when the loop is placed in a horizontal position nearly all the static will disappear."

"However, broadcasting as a rule disappears, too, due to the fact that most broadcasting waves and the static waves are vertical and travel in the same direction."

"If the broadcast waves are made to travel at right angles to static, or horizontal when the loop is placed in a horizontal position, we will pick up broadcasting but not the static."

CHECKING WAVES

Amateurs Make DX Over Land and Water

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 22.—Getting long distance on short waves and low power is almost an everyday affair to members of the American Radio Relay league.

By long distance, today, is meant more than the 3000 miles from coast to coast. It crosses land and water, sometimes reaching more than half-way around the globe.

In the last two weeks the American Radio Relay league has received reports of signals heard by its members from the MacMillan expedition in the Arctic, from South Africa, and over long routes crossing the Atlantic and the Pacific.

On one case, an amateur in Johannesburg, South Africa, reports having heard a station in Honolulu calling a fellow amateur in Tacoma, Washington. This South African amateur also has been able regularly to log messages from NRRL, the short wave station being operated with the U. S. Pacific fleet at Australia.

Amateurs throughout the country have reported messages from this experimental low wave station across America and the Pacific.

In the course of only two hours a British amateur reports having listened in to stations in Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Brazil and Mosul. A few days later this same amateur established two-way communication with another amateur in Yugoslavia.

Messages from the MacMillan expedition have brought forth queer records. In one case John L. Reinhardt, operator for the expedition, got a low-wave message to a London amateur. This "ham" rebroadcast it so that it was received by D. H. Sarkisian at West New York, New Jersey.

Two South African amateurs have succeeded in logging calls from a large number of stations in America. That's not only a record for DX, but one for good reception despite the difficulties of crossing the torrid zone.

All these messages have been recorded on low wavelengths even down to 5 meters. The messages from the MacMillan expedition have been coming in on 20 to 40 meters.

Short Cuts

Things to Know in Building and Operating a Receiver

If cramped for space, erect your aerial on the side of the house. Make a four-strand antenna, the wires at each end of which are separated by a "spreader." Attach one end to the roof and the other to the window sill on the lower floor. If desired, you can use a rod to prop the wires at a 45-degree angle from the house.

When covered flexible wire is used in a set or on loop terminals, make a cuff of spaghetti tubing and slip it over the ends to prevent fraying of the wire coverings.

In drilling large holes in a panel, drill the panel with a 1/4-inch drill and run a reamer through until the hole is the required size.

A ring cut from an old auto inner tube makes an ideal gasket for fitting a loudspeaker unit to the horn or phonograph arm.

'CORKSCREW' DISCOVERED BY MISTAKE

By ISRAEL KLEIN
NEA Service Writer

Corkscrew waves, newcomers in the field of radio, may be the death of fading and the reduction of static.

Fading, the mysterious dying out of a signal once tuned in, has been one of the most annoying bugaboos to the radio fan. It breaks up a concert without warning and brings it in again in the same mysterious way.

Many explanations have been attempted for this peculiar phenomenon, but one is just as good as another. None has helped solve the mystery.

Now a new kind of radio wave—one resurrected after a lapse of many years—is heralded as a promising benefactor. It may solve the fading problem. It may help reduce static.

It was by accident that Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, famous radio engineer, stumbled upon the corkscrew wave.

S. P. Nixdorf, his assistant, and he had been testing the signal strength of waves by means of a portable antenna on a field set aside for this work by the General Electric company at Schenectady. The large receiving stations at Riverhead, L. I., and at Bangor, Me., were instructed to report the intensity of the signals.

Beneficial error

One day, the exploring antenna showed no sign of a wave transmission, yet Riverhead reported the signals coming in stronger than ever.

Search revealed that the loop terminals had been reversed, and that only the upper horizontal part of the loop had been transmitting. Horizontally polarized waves were the means by which the signals had been heard.

Further investigation revealed that these waves were heard at that they were received like vertical waves.

Alexanderson's conclusion was that the horizontal waves started off on a plane, shot off at an angle into the air, twisted about somehow and came down as vertical waves. Further, it appeared to Alexanderson these waves made this corkscrew turn about every 150 miles.

May Combine Both

This may be the cause of fading, when at some point in the wave's twisting, it can't be detected. But Alexanderson hopes to experiment with these waves and with a combination of horizontal and vertical waves, so that, at any distance, some part of this so-called polypolar wave may be detected.

"We are not yet able to foresee quite what relation the discovery of horizontally polarized waves will have to the problem of reduction of static," says Dr. Alexanderson, "but it is probable that it will open up new possibilities for further progress."

"We may find that fading phenomena are directly due to the change in the plane of polarization," he adds. "We may find ways of receiving the component of the wave which has not changed into the vertical plane, and we may thus find the static less disturbing."

That is all conjecture, which Alexanderson and his assistants are trying to substantiate by experiments. They are testing many types of aerials, varying wavelengths, under different conditions.

After that will come tests with various types of receiving antennas for co-operation with the transmitting end and the elimination of fading and static.

WOMAN FAN CONTEST

Fans of the gentler sex have a chance to win a silver cup and a trip to New York during the coming Radio World fair to be held from September 14 to 19. The fan who presents by letter the most impressive log of received stations, with a short story of her experiences as a broadcast listener will win the trip and cup.

HOSSESSES ADVISED

Women planning a party at home should tune in on Station KOA, Denver, for the expert advice on home entertainment being broadcast from that station. This is an expansion of the household talks broadcast three afternoons weekly.

WANT TO REBROADCAST

Stations outside the United States have asked Station KDKA for permission to rebroadcast its low wavelength programs. The latest among these is the new station at Bogota, Colombia.

EXAMPLE FOR OTHERS

Announcers at Station WCCO, St. Paul and Minneapolis, set a good example for others of their craft when they showed how short they could make their speeches. At the opening of the St. Paul studio, the eight staff members spoke an average of 8-23 words each.

BIG COPPER FIELD

Radio is one of the biggest copper customers in the world of industry. The Copper and Brass Research association estimates a production of 2,000,000 radio sets this year, in which 7,750,000 pounds of copper will be used.

RADIO CONVENTION PLANS INTERESTING

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The third national convention of the American Radio Relay league will be held here August 18 to 21.

Radio enthusiasts in great numbers from the United States, Canada and Europe are expected to attend.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and C. Francis Jenkins, inventor of radio photography and radio motion pictures, and other men prominent in the radio world are expected to be present.

It is planned to have papers and demonstrations on many of the most important radio inventions of the past two years, such as photographs and motion pictures by radio, short-wave, low-power transmission in daylight and similar developments.

The government is making provisions to examine visiting operators who are seeking licenses for transmitting stations.

CLASSICS

The popular classicists of older and modern music will be interpreted on the piano to the radio fans of station WKRC at Cincinnati. Miss Fay Ferguson, noted pianist, shown here, will present the concert on the evening of Sept. 2, between 8 and 10, eastern standard time.

ASKS CONFERENCE TO BE POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The international radio conference called by the United States to meet at Washington this fall may be postponed.

The League of Nations recommended that the conference should not be held until 1927.

Many European countries desire to have preliminary conferences regarding the continental radio situation before attending an international conference.

The conference will deal with copyrighted press matter, establishment of rules concerning multiple address messages delivered by the no-answer method, censorship of radio-telephone broadcasting and similar problems.

MICROPHONE HOG

Like the road hog, who wants the whole road to himself, radio announcers have spotted the microphone hog, who wants the whole instrument when he sings into it with others. He's usually the first tenor in a male quartet, says Station KFI at Los Angeles.

CLASSICS AND JAZZ

One evening for the classics, another for popular music will be set aside this fall by Station WKRC at Cincinnati. The Cincinnati Conservatory of Music is co-operating with other organizations in this program.

ON HIGHER POWER

Station WCCO, at Minneapolis and St. Paul, may now hit the air with as much as 5000 watts power. That's an increase of 3000 watts over the power the station has been broadcasting the last two months.

RADIO DISTRACTING

A Boston high school principal says that radio creates a division of interest in the students' minds and interferes with the students' school work.

TIRES AT LOWEST PRICES

Guaranteed, Rebuilt, 30x3 1/2, $4.50. Cords, 31x4, $6.25. 32x4, $7.00. 34x4 1/2, $9.50. All other Cord sizes in stock. Gerwing, 312 Broadway.

A Piano and Cello Duo will

W. P. Fuller Co., paints, var-

nishes, plate and window glass, mirrors. 520 W. 4th St. Phone 661.

In North Learned

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 22.—How the Amundsen ship Maude which was frozen into the arctic ice three years ago, to test the drift of the northern currents, was close to destruction last year, has been learned here.

The Maude, according to R. Pollister, of the motor schooner Blue Sea, which put in here after being in port with the Maude at East Cape, Siberia, was thrown over on her beam ends by the ice, causing the Amundsen vessel's oil galley to be flooded.

For time it looked as though the Maude might be lost, for the heavy ice was grinding around her hull in a menacing manner.

Pollister had dinner aboard the Maude at East Cape and furnished the crew with fresh vegetables. The trapping had been very poor and the vessel had very little furs. Twenty-nine polar bear were the only furs secured.

The discovery ship has plenty of fuel oil but ran short of lubricant, otherwise the vessel would have been in this port weeks ago. She has been tied up at East Cape awaiting arrival of a Russian ship to bring supplies.

Three years of the arctic has made the crew of six aboard the Maude thoroughly sick of ice drifts, Pollister reported, and they are eager to get back to civilization.

The Maude will arrive here within the next four days, it was expected.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The Democrats' fight on the Republican's tax reduction program next winter won't be against reduction, but against the kind of reduction—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's kind—that it's considered certain the Republicans will advocate.

It wouldn't do to oppose reduction. That's bound to be popular with everybody. The party that fought it would be doing the worst thing imaginable for itself.

On the other hand, the Democrats figure it will be extremely popular to oppose reduction of a sort that will benefit mainly very rich men and big corporations.

That Secretary Mellon wants reduction to begin at the top this time there isn't any question. He's outspoken about it.

He's willing to let the small fry have a little of the gravy but he wants the big helping to go to the taxpayers.

He was eulogized out of having his way last year but it appears to be generally agreed among the Republican managers that he's to have his turn at the next session of congress—provided, of course, they're able to give it to him.

It's no cinch that they will be able to do it. They probably can manage it in the House of Representatives, but the Senate's doubtful—more than doubtful. The Democrats will be against the Mellon plan and so will most of the insurgents—not only the chronic insurgents but also the occasional ones.

A senator from a state where sur-taxpayers are strong may see how he's buttering his bread on the right side by voting for them rather than the common people. The latter are in a vast majority, even in such states, but the capitalists frequently make up for their numerical inferiority by their strength in influence.

Most of the insurgent and near-insurgent senators, however, come from the great open spaces where that kind of influence doesn't count for so much.

Secretary Mellon can talk himself black in the face about the ultimate good it will do the poor man to wean capital away from tax-exempt securities and get it back into industry, but he isn't going to convince many poor men that this prospect is preferable to the lopping of a few dollars off from their own income taxes. Senators know this as well as anybody.

The administration, then, evidently is going to commit itself to the Mellon tax reduction plan. Such Republicans as are thorough "regulars" will support it.

The others are very apt to vote against it—out of consideration for their own political health, whatever they may think of Secretary Mellon's arguments. And between the Democrats and Republican insurgents—if there's a full quota of them—it's impossible, as everybody knows, for the Republican "regulars" to get anything through the Senate.

Well, what then—if the administration program gets tied up in the Senate? Will the other side turn around and put through its program? It may—in the Senate.

But can it get it through the House? Not if the administration backs it. While the administration yielded on the Mellon plan last year, it wasn't quite so much of an issue then as it promises to be next winter.

The administration may feel bound to stick by it this time. Still, it will be hard for Republican house members to vote against what certainly will be so popular a measure.

To summarize, tax reduction will be talked about endlessly at the next session of Congress, but it's quite among the possibilities that there'll be no actual reduction—that the puzzle will be left for the seventeenth congress to find the answer to.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Is the world in danger of working up to a larger population than it can support?—or, rather, more than it can support comfortably? Of course those it absolutely can't support will die. But a great many more than he can support decently may be able to eke out a bare existence, which is just the condition prevailing on some parts of the globe now.

China is the country most talked about in this connection. In fact, big areas in China are thinly populated. But certainly it is overcrowded in spots.

Say the Yangtze valley. There population is up to the subsistence limit. And mighty skimp subsistence.

There are a few rich men. Everybody else is almost incredibly poor. The average wage is about 15 cents a day. For every new baby somebody else must die—or else the baby dies.

Is this a condition the whole world is coming to—and pretty soon?—four or five generations at the outside, with the pinch getting tighter all the time, as we go along?

The suggestion is even advanced that great population centers, like New York, will have reached the Yangtze valley stage—a very few rich and everybody else desperately poor—in 30 years.

For some reason or other this has been a red hot topic of discussion in certain Washington circles—biologists, farm experts, census workers, geographers, historians and military men—ever since the war. What's more, the historians say it crops up after every great war.

Why is this?—right after a war?—when one would suppose the world would be thinking about replenishment of its human losses?

One group of scientists, which pooh-poohs the Malthusian theory, calls such worrying pure foolishness—an afterthought of war-bred hysteria.

The other main group, to which most of the military men belong, replies that all big wars are caused, primarily, by local overcrowding, which reminds people of the awful situation which will prevail when it is world-wide.

The argument has been accentuated by the debate between Professors R. J. McCall of the Massachusetts Agricultural college and E. M. East of Harvard before the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass., recently.

McCall believes the world always will have enough to eat—never will overtake its food supply. East declares the time near when bread and butter's availability will determine the size of all populations.

Washington authorities divide up about as Professors McCall and East differ.

Says one group: If we were going to be overcrowded, we'd have been overcrowded long ago. Populations automatically stop increasing before they reach the dead line. Look at France.

Says the other: Look at China and India.

Says the first group: In the mass they're primitive peoples. What applies to them doesn't apply to the civilized Occident. In western countries, at the proper time birth rates slump.

Says the second: England and Italy are quite civilized and also western, yet they have so many people they can hardly find room to park their feet.

Says the first: It's a temporary condition. There's space for them in new lands. Presently they'll begin to emigrate.

Says the second: Today's open space are tropical—unfit for white men, at any rate—like South America and Africa, or largely barren, like Australia and much of North America's own west.

With the scientists in such complete disagreement, any layman is at liberty to solve the problem for himself.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Ask an old-line Republican, "Who'll be the next radical leader in the senate?"—for you know the old-liners are thinking a lot about this—and the chances are he'll reply, right off the bat, "It won't be Frazier anyway."

Then he'll take time to say radicalism's completely gone up, so it won't need any leader.

The old-liner knows better than that. The combined radicals and Democrats outnumbered the Republican "regulars" on several votes at the extra session last spring. La Follette and Ladd are gone now, but their seats will be filled before next session—almost certainly by two more radicals.

Numerically the lineup will be just what it was before—but will the radical leadership be what it was?

"Norris," the old-liner will remind you, "has raised it already. Borah's pretty independent but he wouldn't go that far. And of course Frazier's out of the question."

Yet when you inquire, "Why not Frazier—anyway? Why 'of course' not?" all the explanation you get will be, "Oh, he wouldn't do."

After hearing substantially the same thing about two dozen times you begin to get the impression the old-line Republicans are a trifle afraid of Frazier—think he'd make a pretty formidable radical leader, which wouldn't suit their book a mite—they want radicalism to disintegrate, for lack of leadership—and are trying to pooh-pooh him out of consideration.

Maybe he wouldn't make a good radical leader. But it seems premature to say "of course" he wouldn't.

To a nonpartisan bystander, it seems as if he might make a fair stab at the job. He isn't spectacular, like La Follette, but he's able, well-informed, experienced in politics, has punch, knows how to make a first-class speech and take care of himself in debate and shows a wonderful capacity for landing and standing up under some mighty hard knocks.

He was elected governor of North Dakota three times. In the midst of this third term, he was reelected by 4102 votes. If that wasn't a jolt, what is? In spite of it, the very next year he was elected to the senate by a majority of 8848.

A comeback like that—and so quick—suggests a strong man.

Frazier appears to stand tolerably well with the radicals, at least in his own state. They elected him to the senate, even if they had previously recalled him from the governorship—and it's the last vote that counts.

The Democrats speak respectfully of him. To be sure, he's none of their business. He was read out of the Republican party but certainly he isn't a Democrat. Still this is just a discussion of what politicians in general think.

Republican radicalism is just to the Democrats' interest just now. It helps them to block old-line Republican policies. Presumably they like to see it well led—at this particular time. It's their temporary ally.

The old-line Republicans hoped it wouldn't be, after the 68th congress adjourned, but the extra session in March proved that it is still, in the 69th. Well, if the Democrats consider Frazier an impossibility as the new Progressive leader, they're keeping it to themselves.

Perhaps there's no particular reason for predicting he'll be the next radical standard bearer in the senate, but this constant Republican old-line repetition of "Oh no, of course not" sounds queer. It sounds as if the old-liners "hoped" not. It almost hints that that's just what he will be.

D. U. G. Littell, Osteopath, Whole Grain Wheat Distributor, 635 North Parton Street.

William G. Axworthy will render a Cello Solo at St Ann's Inn from 12:30 to 2:30.

BEACH PEOPLE ARE OPPOSED TO STRIP BUY

Property Purchase Would Be Beneficial to P. E. Opinion Expressed

By ALFRED AULT
BALBOA, Aug. 22.—Property owners along Central avenue will fight vigorously the proposal to purchase the half block section proposed for the transfer of the Pacific Electric rails and are united in combatting the project.

This was the belief expressed today by F. W. Harding, Balboa pioneer and open opponent of the plan.

The move was declared to be detrimental to the growth of the city and playing into the hands of the Pacific Electric company.

Refusal of the owners to sell their property to the city will kill the proposal, it is said. By state law, the land cannot be seized in condemnation proceedings and turned over to a public corporation, according to Harding.

Because of this condition, the property owners have the upper hand. City officials today said that there was no means of forcing the people to sell. Condemnation action for any other purpose before turning the section over to the Pacific Electric would be "getting around the law," it is claimed.

Chamber Endorses Plan

The proposed project was given the backing of the Balboa chamber of commerce recently as a solution of the serious traffic problem facing Balboa.

At present, the Balboa chamber of commerce is approaching the trustees of Newport Beach in waiting for a report from the Balboa chamber of commerce before going further.

Other propositions are being advanced. Actual condemnation of the Pacific Electric right-of-way along Central avenue is suggested. This step is believed to be uncertain and necessitating litigation in the courts for a period of perhaps 10 years.

The transfer of the street car right-of-way from the north from Alvarado street to Washington is favored by Pacific Electric officials.

Harding Gives Views

This position is viewed by F. W. Harding as disastrous to the city.

"Our space for expanding is already limited on the peninsula," Harding said. "By giving the Pacific Electric company the proposed section of land we would crowd ourselves and grant the street car company property in the heart of the city that will be of immense value in a few years."

"A satisfactory solution could be made by giving the Pacific Electric company a 99 year lease to operate busses here for a full title to their right-of-way," Harding suggested.

"If they refused to consider such a proposition, I would say to let them go. Some other solution could be found. Before many years bus lines will drive the street car companies out of business."

"The time is coming when the street car lines will be brought only as far as West Newport and from there busses will carry passengers to districts in the city," Harding asserted.

H. B. RANCHERS ARE BUSY WITH CROPS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—Agricultural activity has been much in evidence this week in the adjoining district. Alfalfa cutting was in order about Talbert, ranchers reporting a fair, but not heavy crop this season.

Beet dumps are taking on a busy appearance since the opening of the Holly sugar factory. The beets, although not raised in large quantities this year as last, are testing well, according to factory officials.

Another improvement of interest to bean growers is the annex with the Greenview Bean Growers association is adding to their present plant east of here. "The company expects a good crop this year and are getting ready for it," one rancher living nearby said today. Irrigation of beans has been general all over the Talbert district this week.

Legion Post Picks State Delegates

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—Delegates who will represent the Anaheim post of the American Legion at the state convention of that organization to be held at Catalina next month, appointed today will include R. E. Smith, H. D. McFarland, H. C. Wilhelm, Ed Backs, Earl Fuller and James Heffron.

Chairman E. M. Everett of the post's endowment fund here reported that approximately $1350 of the $1500 quota had been secured and the committee is hopeful of completing the drive before the end of the week.

RESUSCITATION BY PRONE METHODS IS SHOWN BY GUARDS

Pretty Woman Life Saver and Husky Husband to Attend School

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 22.—Resuscitation by the prone method is generally held to be more effective than the pulmotor. That was revealed by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O'Meara, 118 Twenty-fourth street, college life guards at Newport Beach this summer.

"By natural results the National Red Cross has found that the prone method is better," O'Meara said. "There is danger that the delicate lung tissues will become injured when the pulmotor is applied."

"For this reason, experts have held that the natural pressure on the lungs is more satisfactory than pulmotor resuscitation."

O'Meara and his wife are serving as Sunday life guards at Newport Beach. Mrs. O'Meara was formerly Mary Hemstreet, daughter of C. S. Hemstreet, veteran Newport Beach fisherman.

When the summer season closes, the O'Mearas intend to return to college. They are studying for medical degrees at the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons in Los Angeles.

Both are working their way by summer employment and special assignments at college. They are engrossed in their study and enthusiastic over their careers which they are mapping out together.

On the completion of three more years, they will graduate. According to their present plans they are to start in practicing "somewhere in Orange county."

The use of resuscitation is not restricted to drowning victims for the O'Mearas. When experimenting on animals at college, often resuscitation has to be applied when breathing stops, O'Meara said.

"Despite the reputation that cats have for all their nine lives, they die easier than any other animals on which we experiment," he disclosed.

During their attendance at college, both Mr. and Mrs. O'Meara were both on swimming teams. Through their interest in water sports they became engaged in life guard work.

Lawrence O'Meara has already spent three years at the University of California, Southern Branch, and one year at the Osteopathic college with his wife. He went into the medical work after he married.

New Interest In Checker Clubs At Beach Is Shown

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—Checkers may be to Huntington Beach what horseshoes have been to Long Beach. The past week has been a period of renewed interest in the checker "clubs" which have been holding hourly sessions on the beach front and elsewhere within range of the ocean zephyrs. Deep-thinking men, some with gray whiskers and others who are not old enough to have any, can be seen most any time gazing steadfastly and without a murmur upon the little boards with the black and white squares.

The checker players cannot be accused of their professionalism, because many of them have professions of their own in the city proper, but an hour or two of checker playing in Huntington Beach is to the tired business man of that city what a forenoon of golf is for the worried merchant of Miami. Anyhow, it looks that way.

The south side of the Chamber of Commerce office is one of the most popular arenas for checker, crowning, pushing and jumping. The sport is sufficiently exciting to thrill a group of about ten spectators continuously. Once in a while a player and a spectator get into a fuss over the best "yank" which a "king" should be given, and on one such occasion the player declared that he would "throw the whole censored thing into the ocean," meaning the board and the little "pancakes" thereon. Since most of the games are played out in the open, it is generally thought that no checkers have been lost.

ORANGE SCHOOLS TO OPEN FOR FALL TERM SEPT. 7 IS SUPERINTENDENT'S RULING

ORANGE, Aug. 22.—The school bell, which has been silent for the past two months, will peal forth again on Monday, September 7, when Orange elementary schools will reconvene for the new fall term, according to an official announcement made today by George C. Sherwood, local school superintendent.

"The date officially fixed for the opening falls on Labor day," Sherwood explained, "but owing to the full days in which to get the children together and drill them in their parts," said Sherwood.

At the same time, the school executive released attendance estimates for the new term, which show that this year's enrollment will at least equal if not surpass last year's figures.

Sherwood, basing his estimate on attendance predicted that approximately 1085 students would be enrolled during the first month at the various city grade schools. The kindergartens are included in this estimate.

He also attendance figure does not take into consideration the new pupils coming into school, but deals only with children who were in school last year and the oncoming crop from the kindergartens. With the new pupils who are bound to enroll, it is expected that this year's attendance will reach the vicinity of 1140, which was the attendance mark set during the first month last season.

Hold Labor Day Programs

Labor day, the school executive pointed out, is not a compulsory holiday with schools of the state, although in most cases schools convene on a later date. However, exercises will be held during the spirit of the occasion, the same as on Washington and Lincoln's birthdays.

In fixing the official opening for Labor day the school board did so in order to have more time in

"Save Band" Dance At Balboa Draws Terpichore Fans

BALBOA, Aug. 22.—Much interest is being evinced here in the "Save the Band" benefit dance to be held at the Rendezvous Dancing pavilion next Thursday evening according to H. B. Tudor, manager.

Summer colony visitors on beach vacations have shown unusual attention to the plans for the affair, it is said. Active sale of tickets has been carried on at distributing stations.

People of the bay district will swell the numbers attending the dance from inland sections. Preparations are being made for the largest crowd ever entertained at the Rendezvous.

The benefit is being conducted for the Santa Ana Municipal band directed by D. Cianfoni. An open air concert will be given by the band preceding the formal opening of the dance with the grand ball.

Dance music will be played by the "Oregon Aggravators," famous Rendezvous symphonies. Several special numbers are being rehearsed in preparation for the "Save the Band" performance.

PROPOSE TAX TO BEAUTIFY CEMETERY

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—Upkeep of Anaheim cemetery, which has been the cause of much discussion among the lot owners there and other residents of the city, will probably be improved and beautified through a taxation method, it was announced today, following information received from C. S. Harrington, father of a bill which passed the recent session of the state legislature, making it possible to create a cemetery and levy taxes for its upkeep.

The law, introduced as Assembly Bill No. 23, was drawn up to make it possible to improve a cemetery at Santa Ana and the one in this city. It provides that fifty citizen property owners may draw up a petition to the board of supervisors, setting forth the boundaries of the proposed public cemetery and that the supervisors may create the cemetery.

If Anaheim and Santa Ana want a beautiful cemetery, it is up to the people," said Assemblyman Harrington. The law makes it possible to raise the money needed to keep up the tract with its roadways and walks.

Beach Post Will Send Delegates To State Meet

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—Several members of the Veterans Association are planning to make the trip to Santa Monica on September 2 to attend the annual convention of their organization which will be held there. The Women's Relief Corps, although not certain concerning the trip yet, may send a large number of delegates also.

ORANGE PLANS FESTIVAL FOR STATE BIRTHDAY

ORANGE, Aug. 22.—The city of Orange is preparing to entertain the people of Southern California with an elaborate Diamond Jubilee celebration on Wednesday, September 9, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the admission of California into the union. Except for the grape festival at Escondido and a Spanish festival at Glendale, no other town in Southern California is planning anything for the date mentioned.

This means, according to those in charge, that thousands will converge at Orange to witness the elaborate historical pageant arranged for the occasion and that those thousands will go away highly pleased is evident from the program arranged.

The day will begin with a patriotic drill by grade school children at 10:30 a. m. followed with a concert by the San Diego naval training station band.

At 1:30 p. m. there will be a tableaux formed of living statuary depicting leading events in the history of the state. The band will render appropriate musical selections between each of the 15 tableaux. This will be followed by a one-act playlet portraying the California boosters versus the knocker. Then will come a patriotic drill by high school students. All the foregoing events will take place in the plaza.

Perhaps the night attraction will be of special interest to many. F. L. Carrier, dramatic producer of the Orange union high school, has written a four-act drama entitled "Eureka." Leading personages of early California history are woven into a drama wherein the early development of the state is mingled with a pretty love story and the right amount of comedy. This play will be given in the high school auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTS OFFICERS

FULLERTON, Aug. 22.—Re-election of officers of the Fullerton fire department was held this week in the auditorium of the fire hall. All last year's officials were returned.

At the time set for the firemen to elect, Chief Roy Davis was discovered to be absent. The men went to Davis' home by truck, broke up a party, and brought the chief back with them.

Officers voted to the fire department officers were Roy Davis, chief; Frank Terdwil, assistant chief; Grover Waters, president; Engman, vice president; and Lawrence Jones, secretary-treasurer.

Orange Apiarist Is Home After Vacation Journey

ORANGE, Aug. 22.—E. J. Atchley, well known bee man of Orange and Riverside counties, has returned home after a brief vacation at his sunny canyon ranch in fertile Diamond Valley near Hemet.

His niece, Miss Billy Atchley of Santa Ana, and two granddaughters, the Misses Lenora and Lucile McCain, of Villa Park, accompanied him on the enjoyable outing.

Mr. Atchley and wife, came to California from Denver 15 years ago. They settled near Rialto, later moving to Riverside, where Mr. Atchley was editor of the Honey Bowl, a bee magazine, for several years.

Seven years ago Mr. Atchley became president of the Beekeepers League of Southern California, with Mrs. Atchley, who is also an expert on bees, as acting vice president.

Mr. and Mrs. Atchley, who now reside near Orange, although both rapidly nearing the three-quarters of a century mark in years, are still active among Southern California bee owners, besides having found time for raising 10 sons and daughters. Several of these have followed in their parents' footsteps and are carrying on their name in their chosen profession of bee raising.

Prominent among these are I. Atchley of Anaheim, N. Atchley of Santa Ana Canyon, M. and Mrs. George Gibford of Riverside, and William Atchley of Upland. The latter maintains a large warehouse and wholesale establishment. Shipments are made to all parts of the world throughout the year.

CONSTRUCTION IN ANAHEIM TO SET NEW MARK

Half Million Dollars Said To Be Represented by Contracts

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—Building operations now in progress in Anaheim, which, when completed, will reach the aggregate of nearly half a million dollars are disclosed today in a conservative estimate compiled from architects and builders engaged in the immense construction program.

Foremost in the building program is the new home of the S. Q. R. department store, at Lemon and Center streets, which, when finished and equipped, will cost approximately $200,000.

Parochial School Buildings. The new St. Catherine's school building represents an investment of $100,000. A new building with equipment for the Chrystal Chemical company will add another $100,000 to the total.

On Emily street, the Industrial Fuel company is erecting a new office building at a cost of $12,000, and on South Claudia street the Southern Counties Gas company is remodeling a structure for its new home, which represents an investment of approximately $25,000, including the site.

At St. Joseph's academy, a new stucco bath house is under construction which will swell the total by another $3000.

The present street paving program now under way calls for an outlay of approximately $12,000. These figures make a total of $452,000 that is being added to the assessed valuation of Anaheim. The greater portion of this vast sum is being spent in Anaheim for labor and material and is said to be making a noticeable increase in the mercantile business of the city.

In addition to the buildings now under construction, two other structures have been announced which will increase the year's building program by another $150,000 when completed. These are the new home of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, and one for the Pickwick stages.

NEW COMMITTEES OF CHAMBER NAMED

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—The chamber of commerce today was functioning under the direction of several new committees, appointed by the new president, Dr. H. A. Johnston, to take charge of practically every phase of the chamber's work. The committees will function for 1925-26. Nearly every member of the chamber has been appointed to serve in some capacity.

The chairmen of the committees are as follows: finance, William A. Dolan; budget, Ed Smith; membership, A. E. Hargrove; industrial, Herman Loehr; agricultural, Perry Mathis; civic improvement, Dr. W. H. Bingham; community development, R. B. Young; publicity, W. Lewis; special events, R. E. Neuhung; transportation, C. V. Duff; orange show, Harry D. Riley; orange grove, R. C. Berger; forum, A. B. McCord; good roads, Carl Leonard; permanent flood control, F. A. Yungbluth; city extension, Roy Wethered; better homes week, Mrs. M. E. Canby.

H. H. Benjamin was appointed delegate to the United States Chamber of Commerce convention while delegates to the Associated Chambers of Commerce sessions were named as follows: F. A. Backs, Sid McGraw, H. E. W. Barnes, William Stark, Leonard Evans, Ed Smith, F. N. Gibbs, H. N. White, W. E. Hargrove, F. A. Yungbluth, Dr. J. G. Hilleary, and Dr. H. A. Johnston.

Mrs. Ellis Speaks Before H. B. Club

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—"Rotarianism and Character Analysis" was the subject on which Mrs. Jean Morris Ellis, psychologist, addressed the local Rotary club yesterday noon. A great deal of enjoyment was found by the members when Mrs. Ellis gave a character analysis of President Eader and one other member of the club.

Roy Smith pleased the Rotarians with a reading and he favored the group with a vocal solo. Among those in attendance were many outside Rotarians. These included Hudson Ballard, Pomona; Elmer Jahrus, Santa Ana; Will Spurgeon, Santa Ana; Burt Coffman, Montebello; George Wilbur, Montebello; Hiram Whitehead, Riverside; Fred Houck, Anaheim; Ralph Smiley, Santa Ana; Leonard Swales, Santa Ana; H. Durkee, Anaheim. Other guests included A. E. Brink, Chris King, Al Severson, E. G. Conrad and W. H. McElfresh, all of Huntington Beach.

Huntington Beach Woman Makes Pioneer Tableau

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 22.—A molded paper tableau of a prairie schooner, with yoked oxen, the prospector, with his pick and shovel, and all the other characters and things incident to a journey across the plains in the early days is rapidly nearing completion in the residence of Mrs. M. E. Reed at Third and Walnut streets.

Mrs. Reed is molding the tableau from specially prepared newspaper material and is writing a history of her relatives, who were pioneers in California, to accompany her art work. She has been working on the pieces and the history for nearly three years.

EMPLOY WOMAN AS OFFICER ON ANAHEIM FORCE

ANAHEIM, Aug. 22.—Being arrested in Anaheim will now have its attractive points, because the first person to greet the new guests will be a charming, blond-haired young woman, Anaheim's first woman police officer, Desk Sergeant Mabel Griffith. Mrs. Griffith filled the new position following the resignation of Desk Sergeant Ralph Young.

Chief of Police J. S. Martin announced the appointment today saying the department should have a woman who would be able to handle the many affairs in which women are primarily interested, and, furthermore, he said, the department needed a complete bookkeeping and filing system, which it has never had. Mrs. Griffith has had experience in law offices and is expected to prove a valuable aid to the department in the handling of legal matters.

Ralph Young, who resigned, has been a member of the local police force since April, when he was appointed by former Chief Nichols.

In 1877 lawn tennis was adopted by the All-England Croquet club, with the result, probably quite unforeseen, that the new game ousted the old one, and the croquet club became the All-England Lawn Tennis club.

William G. Axworthy will render a Cello Solo at St. Ann's inn from 12:30 to 2:30.

EVENING SALUTATION

WHAT WE'RE DRIVING AT

"What is the final objective of business?" asks Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant. He answers this question like this:

Business is trying to make it as easy as possible for everybody to obtain the necessities of life, so that mankind will have more time for other things.

So far, he observes, most people are obliged to spend nearly all their available time in hard work and application to make both ends meet.

"But some day this will not be so. Mankind can get through its chores, feed and clothe itself in a small fraction of its allotted span of years. The rest will be devoted to the really worth-while things—to the search for beauty and the advancement of knowledge."

It is a pleasing prophecy. And business is undoubtedly working to that end, consciously or unconsciously—if by "business" we understand the general system of industry and trade which makes up our industrial civilization. Little by little, it appears, we are approaching the millennial situation that Mr. Filene describes.

But full realization will take a long time. How much of our population is, as yet, really interested in "the search for beauty and the advancement of knowledge. How many yet spend wisely what leisure they have? This is a matter of slow growth.

Two more things are needed, too, before mankind can depend on getting through the necessary day's work in a few hours and the necessary life's work in a few years. They are peace and co-operation. The race as a whole can never gain full efficiency and realize the fine flower of its possibilities while nations, and groups within nations, fight each other instead of working together.

"Motorists and pedestrians seem to have nothing in common," says a deplorer. Haven't they? Ever watch a pedestrian and a motorist from a side street both trying to horn in and cross a main thoroughfare?

IMITATIVE BABIES

Science surely is wonderful. Almost as wonderful as nature. It has now brought forth the fact—not yet universally accepted—that babies learn to cry by imitation. It has been generally realized that babies learned to talk by imitation, but proud parents and less biased relatives have somehow held to the common belief that crying was a natural gift.

It is not so. An eminent scientist of London cites the case of a baby who was taken on a railroad journey at an impressionable age and then cried like a locomotive whistle. Another baby he vouches for was taken on a steamboat trip and then cried like a fog horn. Wonderful!

This theory seems to explain much which bachelor friends of the parents have long found profoundly weird and inexplicable in the cries of infants. It also suggests quite forcibly that the modern custom of keeping a baby quietly at home in its own kiddy-coop during its early years is a great advance over former customs which permitted taking a wee child on excursions out into the hideously noisy world. We are reminded of the small boy who was told that the next door neighbor's boy, a Japanese, could not speak English. Later the small boy rushed into the house and excitedly called out, "But, mamma, he cries United States!"

Wherever the Prince of Wales goes, he plants a tree. Noble idea! And you don't have to be a prince to do it.

LOWER WATER LEVELS

Southern California is not the only area worrying over low water levels, for Canadians all along the Great Lakes are commenting on the low water level there. The phenomenon is remarked especially in such regions as Georgian Bay, where slight variations of level make a big difference in transportation and sport. Many islands formerly separated by water are now joined by land. Rocks and bars have risen from the water in thousands of places.

The difference is likewise evident to observers along the southern shore of the whole big system of lakes and rivers, from Duluth to Montreal. Dozens of lake ports on the American side have found channels inadequate, and new dredging necessary. Small docks everywhere are standing at an awkward height above the water. Countless little bays and lagoons have dried up.

It may be an exceptional year, or series of years, as regards weather and rainfall. But everywhere the phenomenon is blamed mainly on the Chicago drainage canal. The entire population surrounding the Great Lakes will rejoice when the heavy loss of water from Lake Michigan into the Mississippi is reduced. And the experience should be a warning along every navigable body of water in the country, not to tamper unduly with natural water levels.

A new automobile insurance plan protects all passengers, but the pedestrian still has to take out his own policy.

EUROPE'S STOREHOUSE

The United States has been called the granary of the world and Europe's storehouse of foodstuffs. Now it seems to be relinquishing the titles through its policy of exporting little or no wheat. The rapidly growing urban population absorbs an increasingly great proportion of the nation's produce.

Canada, on the other hand, is able and eager to take America's place in feeding the world. The Dominion has large areas of arable land not yet put to productive use. Its population is small compared with its ability to raise foodstuffs.

America does not have to withdraw from the world's food market. Its productive agricultural capacity is far from exhausted. As our population increases we can still feed it comfortably for many years to come. It is chiefly by choice that it is preparing to raise less, and to keep its foodstuffs at home and to resign the position of Europe's greatest food storehouse.

"SENSIBLE" WAR MOVIES

A dramatic critic, writing of the coming season's moving pictures, says: "War plays will be the next thing. It is in the air. Every time I step out in company, I hear everybody talking war. Where they used to talk about Elinor Glyn, they chatter about Kipling's history of the Irish guards and Von Hindenburg's autobiography. Only this time the war will be handled in a sensible and dramatic way—not in the half-insane frenzy of the war propaganda writers."

There is something in the announcement to fill the reader with despair and even wrath. It seems such unspeakable folly to use war pictures for entertainment. And yet good may come of it. Close up pictures of trench warfare are not thrilling and inspiring as were pictures of great battlefields and prancing chargers. If the crowds who view these pictures of war "handled in a sensible and dramatic way" come to appreciate its utter horror, waste and futility they may learn to talk less glibly about the "next war" and to work more earnestly for continued peace.

"Sad Gobs Pack Up to Quit Australia." They've never landed at any place that gave them so much for so little money.

Need Examinations at Border

San Bernardino Sun

With the United States opening experiments in England for the selection of immigrants who will be admitted to the United States, attention might well be directed to the southern boundary line where Mexicans are passing freely into the border states without even a show at restriction.

Southern California is one of the sections of the United States into which the criminal and sick of Mexico have poured without hindrance. The cost of the care of the destitute people from the southern republic can be measured by many thousands of dollars in every county in Southern California. San Bernardino county is one of those which has contributed most heavily.

There is no desire to halt the entrance of Mexicans into California, but this entrance should be carefully supervised by the government. Only the physically fit should be permitted to come and efforts should be made to bar the criminals.

Several times each year deportation trains are operated from California into Mexico, returning those who have become public charges before they could establish legal residence in California. This operation is conducted at a terrific expense to the taxpayers, but even this is not as costly as the care of the unfit who have gained legal residence and cannot be deported.

The border is long and it is guarded only at intervals, but it should be guarded just as closely as are the ports on the Atlantic and Pacific. With Japanese colonization under way in Mexico, the nation demanding the halt of the flow of liquor and dope over the Mexican border and keep necessity for selecting those immigrants who enter from Mexico, the time is near when the government must patrol the entire border.

Now is the time for counties of Southern California to demand that the government perfect a system of immigration control along the border, institute adequate medical examinations and require testimonials as to character of those who enter.

Belgian Acknowledgment Important

San Francisco Chronicle

Irrespective of the terms of the settlement reached by the Belgian and American debt commissioners, the agreement is important in that definite acknowledgment is made by the people of Belgium of their obligation to the people of the United States. The validity of their debt is upheld and recognition given to the principle that nations no more than individuals can ignore their credit engagements.

Once more a lesson is driven home to the American people and American officials by the fact that our representatives took cognizance of a "moral" obligation resting upon the United States, though no "legal" obligation existed, and because of assurances given the Belgians by the late President Wilson, agreed to forget the interest on that part of the Belgian debt contracted during the war.

Here is a strong illustration of the fact that an American Government officer has no right whatever to give to a foreign government any assurances which he lacks the authority to carry out. We are not sure that President Wilson committed us to even a moral obligation on this point. But he did, by his promises, throw on us the burden of being misunderstood and criticized unless we accepted the obligations he undertook.

Our representatives in this debt settlement have done their utmost to make it clear, and it should be clear, to other debtor nations that any special treatment we give Belgium has no application elsewhere. We expect France and Italy to settle their debts without reference to any amelioration of the Belgian obligation. Belgium is a special case, establishing no precedent whatever.

The precedent for other powers which we will agree has been established in the Belgium case is full acknowledgment of a debt owed the people of the United States.

California Growing Fast

Riverside Press

California's population will reach the five million mark in 1925, her seventy-fifth anniversary and diamond jubilee year, according to estimates made by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and published in the current issue of the Oakland Outlook, the chamber's monthly bulletin to its members.

The estimates are based on the average daily attendance in the elementary schools of the state, on a ratio worked out in 1920 when the government census was made.

The average daily attendance in the state's elementary schools for the 1920 term was 387,889, or an average of 8.3 operation for each pupil. The attendance for the 1925 term was 561,007, which, using the 1920 ratio of 8.8 population per pupil, gives a total population of 4,936,861. This is a gain of 1,510,000 for the five year period.

According to a similar computation, the state gained 187,256 people during the past year. As this is an average of 15,590 people per month, the five million mark will be reached about November first, the survey shows.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

TO RELIEVE HEADACHE

If constipation is the cause of headache, a laxative diet should be selected.

Fruits and vegetables are serviceable. Prunes, bran muffins and the like may help.

Taking a hot glass of water upon rising and retiring is a good habit.

Whole wheat bread should be preferred, and bran muffins or biscuits should never be served raw hot.

The less fried food one eats, the better.

Exercise should be taken regularly, especially abdominal work, such as bending.

Sometimes a spoonful of good unadulterated olive oil a few times daily will help to lubricate the intestines, and in that way assist nature.

It is always better, however, to relieve constipation naturally, by exercise, diet, etc., than to resort to artificial stimulants.

Rehearsing for the Next Big Show

Great Social Significance in Growth of Education

Stockton Independent

No more significant or encouraging facts concerning the progress of education in California have ever been revealed than those of recent statistics setting forth the enormous increase of education during the past decade over the increase in population for the same period.

The state's increase in population is given as 44 per cent, while school enrollments (this does not include teachers' colleges or universities) had increased at the remarkable rate of 112 per cent. From 1914 to 1924 high school enrollment shows an increase of 336 per cent, while the elementary schools increased 293 per cent, and kindergarten enrollment jumped from 13,070 to 51,383.

These figures are illustrative of how comparatively new a thing education of the mass is after all in one of the most progressive states in the Union. The gain of the past ten years in the number of people who are enjoying the opportunities of education should be a source of great pride to the citizenry of the state. It means that in California there is a fast growing educated majority, which must always be the hope and salvation of any true democracy. It means that education is no longer a class privilege, reserved for the fortunate few making for a select but brilliant minority, whose autocracy dominates the great masses. It means that the doors of cultural opportunity are open to practically all who will enter in.

An educated democracy has always been the ideal of the American people from the founders of this government down to the present day, statesmen, writers and all intellectual leaders have emphasized the necessity of better educational systems. In the words of James Russell Lowell:

"It was in making not only common to all, but in some sense compulsory on all, that the destiny of the free republics of America was practically settled."

California's remarkable increase in the enrollment of school pupils augurs much for the future of a citizenry made up of a well-educated majority.

ECHO

In eddying course when leaves began to fly,
And Autumn in her lap the store to strew,
As 'mid wild scenes I chanced the muse to woo,
Through glens untrod, and woods that frown'd on high
Two sleeping nymphs with wonder mute I spy!
And, lo, she's gone!—In robe of dark-green hue
'Twas Echo from her sister Silence flew.
For quick the hunter's horn resounded to the sky!
In shade affrighted Silence melts away.
Not so her sister.—Hark! for onward still,
With far-heard step, she takes her listening way,
Bounding from rock to rock, and hill to hill.
Ah, mark the merry maid in mockful play,
With thousand mimic tones the laughing forest fill!

You ipologize for wats you jest called me or ill give you a good stiff poke in the snoot, Skinny sed.

Well G, willickers, gosh shang it, I didnt call you anything, I only dreamed I called it to you, I sed.

Well ipologize for that and be quick about it, I Skinny sed, and I sed, You got to catch me first.

And I ran like the mischief with-out ipologizing.

Small for Voice

In the days when there were "giants" in the legislative halls of Congress there were occasional tilts between the members, sort of intellectual sallies.

One day a senator from Delaware decided that the fair state of Kansas should be attacked. So he called together all of the caustic epithets that he could command and hurled them Kansas-ward.

When the Delaware senator had exhausted his vocabulary, and his breath, Senator Ingalls of Kansas took the floor and reviewed in masterful English and expressions of the senator from Delaware.

Finally suming up, he said, "And this, Mr. President, this from a man who represents a part of a state—a part of a state, mind you—that has but three counties when the tide is out—and only one when the tide flows in."—From Foresight.

Today's Birthdays

Daniel Frohman, celebrated theatrical manager and producer, born at Sandusky, O., 72 years ago today.

Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howze, commander of the 5th Corps Area, born in Rush county, Texas, 61 years ago today.

Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington, born at San Jose, Calif., 50 years ago today.

One Year Ago Today

"Strange Morse signals" were heard at Vancouver and at London by radio listeners as Mars was closest to earth.

On The Side Lines

A Record of Individual and Independent Opinion.

(Which may or may not be in harmony with the views of the Register.)

WHAT DO THEY HOPE FROM SUCH A SHOW?—The "bathing beauties" show at Long Beach brought an immense crowd of sight-seers to that city. And that's what they were—sight-seers, no more, no less.

It is extremely doubtful if any community was ever permanently benefited by putting on an exhibition of scantily clothed girls. The really, manufacturing, merchandising and other business interests of Long Beach cannot hope to be advanced by means of such an exhibition, entertainment, call it what you will.

As to the ethical and moral angle of the matter—well, has anybody said that there is other than one side to that question?

IF DOCTORS FAIL, GO TO FIRE DEPARTMENT—Working faithfully and tirelessly for two and a half hours yesterday afternoon, members of the Fresno fire department rescue squad brought a woman back to life by artificial respiration after she had been pronounced dead at a Fulton street hotel.

The foregoing from the Fresno Republican is one of many items of similar nature published in the newspapers of the country. If this kind of thing keeps up, it will be a case of "when all other means of relief or cure fail, apply at the fire department."

Come to think of it, it might be all right to have it, instead of A. J. Jones, M. D., A. J. Jones, M. F. D. (member fire department).

THE UNFAIR STATE FAIR—Members of the state board of agriculture, it is announced, are very optimistic as to the state fair, which is to be held at Sacramento Sept. 5 to 13, inclusive.

Yes, we of Southern California put on—that is to say, we pay most of the expense of putting on—a mighty good state fair every year up at Sacramento. It is true, very few of us can attend it, or know anything about it except from hearsay, but it is, no doubt, a fine fair.

A plan to hold it once in a hundred years, say, in Southern California, would doubtless be frowned down, as was the plan to give the fair at Riverside a show.

****

IF OTHERS FAIL, TRY THIS PLAN—Arrangements have already been completed for an exhibit, at the Riverside fair of the needle and art work of patients at the Southern California hospital for the insane at Patton.

Exhibits of the excellent furniture and toys made in the institution, also by the patients, likewise will be on parade.

Take the writer's word for it, such a showing will be made as to almost, if not quite, convince one that one sure way, nowadays, to lead a useful life is to go crazy; that is to say, just a little crazier than you are at the present time.

IF YOU KNOW, TELL THE WORLD—During June alone the automobile accidents, in sixteen states of the union, caused death and injury to more than four times as many persons as the combined Confederate and Federal casualties in the battle of Bull Run.

In sixteen states one month's record was 376 persons killed and 13,773 injured on the highways. A serious, indeed a frightful showing, is it not?

And what is the remedy? Well, anyone knowing of a sure specific may have the use of this column to tell the world about it. Don't crowd and don't crush.

IT IS NO WAY OUT OF THE DIFFICULTY—Where is the economic good sense, anyway, in this plan so much in evidence of arresting a vagrant and, upon his examination, giving him 30 days "suspended sentence," with the understanding that he shall at once confer the favor of his gracious presence upon some other community?

CHANGING ASPIRATIONS—After several failures an Argentine girl has finally abandoned her efforts to swim the English channel.

Let's hope that, in a few years, she will have a nice home of her own, and that enough water to keep herself and the kids nice and clean will be deemed sufficient.

RESPECT FOR LAW ADMIRABLE AT ANY TIME—"Executive urges respect for law at state picnic," is the way an exchange commences the story of Gov. Richardson's talk to those assembled at the recent Iowa picnic.

Why draw the line at a state picnic?

NO. 24—THE LAST BUTTON IS FOUND

"Everyone of the birch bark notes have been heard from," said Will O' Wisp to the Twins. "And no one seems to know a thing about the last lost button you are hunting."

Juggle Jump, the fairman, juggled the buttons in his pockets, the eleven they had already found, and said, "Well, I think we shall have to make these eleven buttons do. Time is going and the Fairy Queen will wonder where we are."

"How many buttons were there?" asked Will O' Wisp.

"Twelve," said Nancy.

"Couldn't you sew up one button hole," suggested Mister Will.

Juggle Jump considered. Would it be possible to keep Puff's coat closed with eleven pearl buttons if he took a violent sneezing spell, or would it be better to keep on hunting until they found the other button?

Suddenly he laughed aloud. "I've just thought of something," he said. "I'll go to the grocery store and get same sneezeless pepper. Then the eleven buttons will not only be enough, but they will be sure to stay on because Puff won't sneeze any more."

"How will it be as you say," said Will O' Wisp, trimming the wick of his lantern and filling it with oil as it was getting late and almost time for him to make his usual rounds as night watchman of Dixie Land.
